THE ANCON BROKEN.

She Ran Upon the Rocks in Naha Bay, Alaska.

THE PASSENGERS AND CREW SAVED

And Brought Back to Port Townsend by the Steamship Elder

THE STATEMENT OF A PASSENGER

Disobedience of the Captain's Orders Caused the Wreck—Several Days Passed in a Cannery and in Indian Huts

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 4.—The steamer Ancon, in getting away from Loring, in Naha bay, Alaska, ran on to the rocks at 3 A. M. Wednesday, the 28th ult., stopping near amidship. Only a portion of the passengers were aware of the accident till near 4 o'clock, when the boats were lowered and orders given to take the ladies ashore. Good order prevailed among the passengers and crew, and within an hour all were taken ashore without accident. The steamer broke in two near the walking beam, becoming a total wreck. The passengers were quartered in a cannery and Indian huts and were cared for by the ship's company as well as possible until Sunday, September 1, when the steamship George W. Elder arrived and took all the passengers back to Port Townsend. The engines, boilers, etc. and part of the cargo can be saved at low tide.

Loring is a large canning establishment at the head of Naha bay, which is on Behm canal, about sixty miles south of Wrangel and fifteen miles north of Tongas narrows. It is a place seldom visited and the channels are not buoyed out.

PASSENGERS FROM THE WRECK.

TACOMA, Sept. 4.—The Tacoma and Eastern passengers of the wrecked steamer Ancon arrived here on the steamer Olympian at 6:30 to-night. All were well. The Tacoma passengers included Allen C. Mason, wife and two daughters, Miss Bessie Herriott, Marcellus Ross and wife, Miss Minnie Shilling and C. W. Wing and wife.

A WRECKING STEAMER TO BE SENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—It is stated that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, owners of the Ancon, are arranging to send a steamer to the wreck with a view of saving what cargo and property is practicable. The Ancon was valued at $100,000, but there was not a cent of insurance on her.

A PASSENGER'S STATEMENT.

The Captain's Orders Were Disobeyed, and the Vessel Was Wrecked.

SEATTLE, W. T., Sept. 4.—The following statement regarding the wreck was obtained by a reporter this afternoon from one of the passengers on the ill-fated steamer who arrived in this city by the Olympian this afternoon:

"We were preparing to leave Loring at 2 o'clock last Wednesday morning when the accident occurred. The proper way to leave the Loring wharf is to let go the bowlines and swing out on the stern, thus avoiding a rock which lay directly in front. The captain gave strict orders to this effect, but somebody supposed to be a Chinaman cast off the stern line, and before anything could be done the vessel had drifted onto the rock. She struck amidship, and the tide, which was at flood, began to recede, leaving the vessel hung on the rocks.

In an almost incredibly short time she began to crack, and nearly everybody being in bed, it was with difficulty some got out. So fast did she settle that stateroom doors became fastened, and the inmates had to make their exit through windows. The steamer listed badly and soon gave signs of careening. The boats were speedily lowered and all aboard were conveyed to land. The great fear was that in settling so fast the walking beam would fall and cause injury, but it happily did not. The bow, which was heavily laden with salmon, sank until it grounded, and in that condition things rested. The machinery was directly over the rock, or else disastrous results would have ensued, for the walking beam would certainly have fallen. The steamer broke abaft the pilot house about half way to the paddle boxes, and is in such a condition that she can't be floated.

The passengers and crew were conveyed to land, where they waited four and one-half days, and then boarded the Elder, which brought us to Port Townsend. The captain and crew showed us the greatest hospitality, and discomfited themselves greatly that we might be made as comfortable as possible. Too much cannot be said in their favor. We also received fine treatment from the officers and crew of the Elder."

THE NEWS AT ASTORIA.

ASTORIA, Sept. 4.—News of the loss of the Ancon occasions some comment here. D. Morgan had about four thousand cases of salmon aboard, loaded at Chilcat. Elmore & Sandborn had probably twenty-four hundred cases. As the wrecked vessel was entering Loring it is not probable that the Cutting Packing Company had any salmon aboard.

A CANNERY BURNED.

Rumors of the Destruction of Other Establishments Unfounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—A telegram was received in this city to-day that several canneries had been burned in the vicinity of Loring, where the steamer Ancon was wrecked. The fire is thought to have occurred last Sunday. One of the canneries was said to be as long as the cannery on Tongas Narrows, and it was also stated that the Cutting Packing Company had been burned out. The manager of the latter company in this city was seen to-night and said that the report was exaggerated. Cutting & Co. were uninjured, and as far as can be learned only the cannery of A. Berry, which was located about thirty miles from Loring, was burned. The loss is thought to be about $1[illegible]000.

DESERTION FROM THE ARMY.

A Non-Commissioned Officer Gives Four Reasons Therefor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The Chronicle will to-morrow print interviews with a number of non-commissioned officers and privates at the Presidio, in regard to the causes of desertion from the United States army. The command at the Presidio usually comprises about 500 men, and out of this number there have been eighty-five deserters since July, 1888, an average of six per month.

Inquiry among the men at the post failed to elicit the existence of any glaring abuses such as were published in a St. Louis paper a few days ago. The men generally expressed themselves as receiving better treatment by the officers when they were stationed near a city than they did when on the frontier. It was ascertained that many of the deserters from the Presidio were men who desert from other branches in the army and navy and re-enlist here. After a while they get restless or have reason to believe they are suspected of being deserters, and thus, apprehensive of arrest, they desert again.

An intelligent and well-educated non-commissioned officer said: "I have seen twenty-three years of service on the frontier as well as elsewhere. I consider the cause of desertions from the United States military service to be four in number. In the first place, there is a defective recruiting system, whereby the vicious element of the large cities is secured for the army, whereas by division of the recruiting officers among the country towns there might be obtained a percentage of desirable young men. Secondly, there is a different quality of food provided for the men. This is not the fault of the officers, for repeated efforts and representations have been made with a view of having Congress institute training schools of cookery, and of appointing cooks to each command. The food is all right, but the preparation of it is all wrong. Thirdly, the service would be all the better for the adoption of the modern English system, which permits a soldier to buy himself out of the army, by simply refunding to the government the expenses of his enlistment, etc. It would relieve the army of a class who enlist from mere fatigue or because of love affairs. Fourthly, the pay of the army is altogether insufficient. The pay of non-commissioned officers is entirely inadequate, and constitutes nothing for a private soldier to aspire to."

TERRY WAS A DANGEROUS MAN.

Testimony Entirely Justifying the Action of the Authorities.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Among the witnesses examined in the Neagle case to-day was T. T. Williams, a journalist, who testified that he had an interview with Judge Terry while the latter was in Alameda county jail, and that Terry threatened to slap Justice Field's face, and intimated that he would be pleased to have Field attempt to use a weapon on him.

M. M. Estee stated that he had known Judge Terry for over thirty years, and that the fact that he carried a weapon was known to all his acquaintances.

P. D. Wigginton testified that he visited Judge Terry in jail and Terry said he would kill Judge Sawyer if it became necessary.

The letter from Attorney-General Miller to Marshal Franks, directing the latter to provide proper protection for Justice Field and Judge Sawyer, was also submitted in evidence.

Marshal Franks testified that upon the arrival of Justice Field in San Francisco June 17 last, he appointed David Neagle and two other deputies to protect Field from assault. He gave general instructions to those men to look out for Field. When the latter left for Los Angeles about August 7, he instructed Neagle to accompany him, watch the Terrys and to prevent them from doing any bodily violence. He called Neagle's attention to the fact that Terry was not an ordinary man, and if he met Field it would probably be difficult to control him. He told Neagle that in his opinion Terry would assault Field, and if he did Neagle would have to act quickly. Witness said that although Terry might intend only to insult Field when he saw him, he didn't believe Terry could control his temper, and would probably immediately draw a knife. He warned Neagle to take no chances, but to protect Field at all hazards.

The case was then continued until to-morrow.

POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

Results of an Investigation Made at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—An inspector who has been investigating the postoffice assessments which it was claimed had been made for political purposes has forwarded his report to Washington. Those who have seen it declare that the head of Dr. Bryan, present postmaster, will fall at once. It quotes the testimony of a number of clerks, and shows that the assessment scheme was cleverly devised. All the clerks were asked to contribute, but not more than 50 per cent of them did, and some of the clerks testified that Dr. Bryan had told them that they need not do so if they did not wish to. The inspector found, however, that Dr. Bryan, knowing of what was going on, took no steps to prevent it. Two of the clerks testified that they paid, supposing if they did not they would go on a black list. The curious fact was brought out that a majority of the successful civil service appointments were republicans.

A NOVELTY FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

A Skating Rink To Be Built With a Floor of Ice.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—An ice skating rink is soon to be built on Eighth and Market streets, this city. The building is to be 93 by [illegible] feet, and in this will be a smooth floor of ice 70 by [illegible] feet. The ice is made as in an ordinary ice machine by evaporization of liquid ammonia on a water-tight floor having raised edges. A series of iron pipes will be laid, the floor will be flooded with water to the depth of several inches, liquid ammonia will be forced into the pipes, and the vaporizing will cause such intense cold that the whole body of water will be frozen solid.

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS.

San Francisco Market Review.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—There is a healthy tone to nearly every line of trade and an improved inquiry for money is visible. This demand for funds is natural at this season when the crops are being moved, and although the market is harder, the rates have made no actual advance.

Cereals are dull and uninteresting.

Barley and oats are in heavy supply and unchanged.

Wheat has varied but little during the week, and is now quoted at $1 2[illegible] to $1 [illegible]½ for export, with moderate inquiry. Ocean wheat freights are weak, and the tendency of ships all over the world is to seek other ports where better rates are obtainable.

Now that the Eastern wool failures have been pretty well straightened out, the wool market exhibits more tone, and while the market is neither active nor firm, there is some disposition to buy and the feeling is steady.

Hops are in a discouraging condition. The dispatches from New York quote Pacific Coast hops crop of 1889 at 10 and 11½ cents. Taking these quotations as a basis, the local buyers are talking about securing hops at 6 and 8 cents, but there is no business, as these figures are simply paralyzing to the growers.

Choice butter and eggs are both scarce and still higher.

There is a steady call for potatoes at moderate prices.

Choice hay is steady, but the market is overstocked with medium and lower grades, which are virtually unsalable. The receipts at this port yesterday were 1823 tons, by far the largest ever known.

Beef and pork are coming in freely and are weak. Mutton is firm, and small calves are scarce.

The canned salmon market is weaker, owing probably to the ample output in northern waters, and holders are now willing to sell at concessions.

Coal is firm, and some dealers predict an advance with the approach of winter, owing to the decreasing supplies en route from foreign countries.

Stabbed His Brother-in-Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Edward Wall, a fireman employed in the gas house, was stabbed and in all probability fatally wounded early this morning by Michael Tobin, his brother-in-law. Wall went to visit Tobin last night, and while the men were under the influence of liquor they became involved in a quarrel and a scuffle. Tobin was getting worsted in the fisticuff when he drew a large knife and slashed Wall in the abdomen, so badly injuring him that the intestines exuded. Wall was at once taken to a hospital, where the physicians in attendance said that the wound would probably result in death. Tobin was taken into custody for assault to murder. Wall and Tobin are married to sisters.

Personal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—M. R. Snell, of Tacoma, is registered at the Palace.

A. H. Mackay, general agent of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific freight department at Portland, is in town.

Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn is expected to visit this city soon.

Hon. John L. Stevens, of Augusta, Me., the newly appointed minister to the Hawaiian islands, arrived here last night, accompanied by his wife and two daughters. They will sail for Honolulu on the 13th.

A Child Burned to Death.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—Tony Ragland, 10-year-old daughter of Edward Ragland, living in East Los Angeles, was seriously and perhaps fatally burned this afternoon. The little girl and some other children had built a bonfire, and, from venturing too near, her clothing became ignited. Neighbors smothered the flames as quickly as possible, but not till the child was terribly burned. Her father is at present in Seattle.

About to Undergo Repairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The steamer Willamette, which arrived from Seattle on Monday with a cargo of coal for the Oregon Improvement Company, is now discharging her cargo. When this is finished she will be overhauled and extensively repaired. The work will occupy about fourteen days. When the repairs are finished the Willamette will proceed to Seattle, and for the future will ply between that point and Portland, carrying coal.

Drowned.

DELANO, Sept. 4.—William Hutchins, a well-to-do bachelor rancher about 50 years of age, living twenty miles southwest of here, was drowned in a pond of water made from an artesian well yesterday. Deceased was unwell at the time, and attempted to bathe in the water, and the supposition is that he was attacked by cramps, and no one being near he was drowned.

The Chinese Consul-General Denounced.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The Chinese have posted placards and distributed circulars throughout Chinatown denouncing the Chinese consul-general, Leong Tsap, for his treatment of Chinese here. The placard is very long and makes most severe charges against the consul-general. It is signed by artisans, merchants and others of San Francisco.

A Mysterious Wound.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Andrew C. Swan, a mechanic, was found unconscious to-night with a bullet wound in his right side. His brother-in-law, William Simpson, says he believes Swan attempted to commit suicide, as he had been despondent from lack of work, but the doctors say Swan could not have inflicted the wound himself.

Disinterment of Chinese Remains.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The Hop Wo Company have ordered the disinterment of fifty bodies of Chinese to-day, and sixty-one more will be exhumed for shipment to China to-morrow. As the city is entitled to $10 for each disinterment, the proceeds for the two days' work will net the municipality $1110.

The Surveyor-Generalship.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—On authority of a leading member of the Union League Club, it is stated that Paris Kilbourne has been agreed upon by the congressional delegation to succeed General R. P. Hammond, as United States surveyor-general of California.

The Blythe Will Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—The promised sensation in the Blythe case was not produced to-day. Florence was on the witness stand during the greater part of the day.

The Old-Time Governor Nominated on the First Ballot.

KINNEAR DEVELOPED STRENGTH

Stiles of Pierce County Chosen as Permanent Chairman—Detailed Proceedings of the Day Session—Etc.

WALLA WALLA, W. T., Sept. 4.—The republican convention to nominate the first list of state officers for the new state of Washington, assembled in Small's opera house this morning at 10.

Colonel G. G. Lyons, chairman of the republican central committee, called the convention to order and asked the members of the central committee to come on the stage. Governor Moore took a seat on the stage beside the chairman.

Colonel Lyons said that as chairman of what he hoped would be the last territorial central committee it was his duty to call the convention to order. There were three classes of speakers, he said. First, those who could make a good speech and knew it; second, those who couldn't make a speech and didn't know it; and third, those who could not make a speech and did know it. He belonged to that last class, and so would not attempt any speech. He would, however, call attention to the fact that the republican party was never in better condition for active work and success than now. The duty of the convention was not merely to select good men, but to select the first state government for the state of Washington. No such duty had ever before come to the party here, and no greater responsibility could come upon it. Honorable rivalry will exist, and will be settled, but when it is settled we should all go home and wish for the success of the whole ticket. [Applause.]

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION.

Evans of Tacoma nominated Emory C. Ferguson, of Snohomish county, for temporary chairman, and as there were no other nominations he was elected by acclamation, and [illegible] and Clark of Spokane were appointed a committee to escort him to the chair and perform that duty. Lyons introduced the temporary chairman, who thereupon assumed the chair. Ferguson expressed his thanks for the honor, which he considered to be great, as this was the largest convention that ever assembled in the territory, as well as the [illegible] convention, but as he had no doubt plenty of speakers present, loaded to the muzzle, he would not longer stand in their way or make any further speech.

Johnson of Walla Walla nominated Ivan Chase of Whitman county as temporary secretary, and he was elected by acclamation.

Graves of Spokane moved a committee of five upon order of business. Adopted.

Durr of Columbia moved a committee of five on credentials, amended by Johnson to consist of one from each council district as they now are, and adopted in that form.

The chair suggested that each council district suggest a man for that committee.

D. Calhoun and Johnson suggested that each district be called in numerical order.

The chair asked that each district would caucus a little and settle upon names while he made up the committee on business. That course was adopted and for a few minutes the convention took an informal recess.

The chair announced the committee on order of business as follows: Graves of Spokane, Haines of King, Gowey of Thurston, Nixon of Pierce and Crowley of Walla Walla.

The council districts were called and the committee on credentials was made up as follows: Edward C. Ross of Walla Walla, H. F. Le[illegible] of Asotin, J. W. Arrasmith of Whitman, [illegible] of Stevens, O. C. Jensen of Lincoln, Fred W. B[illegible] of Clarke, George [illegible] of Lewis, G. H. Emerson of Chehalis, Fremont Campbell of Pierce, T. M. Reed jr. of King, G. V. Calhoun of Skagit and John J. Calhoun of Jefferson.

Kline of Whatcom moved a committee of five on permanent organization.

Grant of King moved to amend by imposing this duty upon the committee on order of business. Adopted.

Gowey moved a committee of one from each council district upon resolutions.

Haines suggested that in so important a crisis as this it was better to find out who were the masters of the convention. He hoped, therefore, that the motion would not be pressed at this time.

The chair thought the motion out of order at this moment, and said so. The motion was not pressed.

AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

The chair said that before adjournment the mayor of Walla Walla desired to say a few words of welcome to the convention, but before listening to the address of welcome the convention voted that when it adjourned it adjourn to meet again at 2 P. M.

The chair then introduced Dr. N. G. Blalock, mayor of this city, who said:

Gentlemen of the Republican Convention: In behalf of the citizens of Walla Walla, I take pleasure in welcoming you to our midst. Coming as you do from all parts of this great territory, destined to be one of the greatest of states of this great Union, we give you hearty welcome to our city; and you gentlemen of the press, moulders of public opinion and to whom we look for the advertising of our great resources, we bid you thrice welcome. We welcome you all, trust you will enjoy your stay with us, and that when you depart you will do so without regret that you came to your meeting in Walla Walla. [Applause.]

The Second Cavalry band had filed in and taken places on the rear of the stage just before Dr. Blalock's welcome, and the convention called for music, Major Barton of Pierce in particular pleading for just one old fashioned army song before they went to dinner. The band gave Hail Columbia and Star Spangled Banner, and the convention cheered them to the echo.

KING COUNTY IS ALL RIGHT.

Colonel Haines rose to a question of privilege and read from a newspaper a statement that the King county delegation would bolt the ticket if Ferry was nominated. He denounced such statements as unqualifiedly false. [Applause.] That delegation was made up of republicans tried and true, who had stood by the party in good report and evil, and were not going to desert it now. They did propose to present the name of a favorite son of King county and labor for his success by all honorable methods. Nevertheless, if the convention in its wisdom saw fit to choose the son of some other county, or even to choose another son of King county than the one whom the delegation had been instructed by the people of that county to present, still the members of the delegation were republicans above all and would support the whole ticket nominated by this convention. [Uproarious applause.]

Dr. Miller called upon the whole delegation from King county to rise to their feet in endorsement of Colonel Haines's remarks, and they arose amid great applause, and three cheers and a tiger proposed by an enthusiastic delegate.

The convention then adjourned till 2 o'clock, marching out to the inspiring strains of the band playing "Rally Round the Flag."

Your committee recommend in accordance with the call of the central committee and former republican conventions, that no proxies be allowed except those given to duly-elected delegates from the county in which the proxy is given, and further recommend that the duly admitted delegations in counties where proxies have been given to persons not duly elected be allowed to cast the full vote of the county It is recommended that all parties having come in good faith with proxies be accorded the privileges of the floor of the convention Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE EMERSON, Chairman

J J CALHOUN Secretary

Several names were added and changes made, which appear in the above list.

Major Burton wished to say something about the recommendation regarding proxies, but was ruled out of order.

Evans of Tacoma asked that these recommendations be read again which was done

Burton declared that this was unfair and unrepublican, and would rule out the whole delegation in some cases, and leave the county unrepresented

Bier, of the committee, said that the reason the committee recommended his course was to keep counties from being misrepresented that money had been offered for proxies, and men had been known to secure proxies who could not get one-quarter of the votes in the precincts

Thad Huston of Tacoma, said that as a good republican he should bow to the will of the convention Nevertheless that recommendation was unfair and unrepublican He was not a member of the convention but held the proxy of a gentleman who had asked him to come and act for him He had no doubt the convention would provide a good ticket without his weak services and both for himself and his principal he pledged support to the ticket that should be nominated, but still he wished to protest against the unfairness of excluding such proxies and thanked the convention for listening to him.

Geoghegan moved to adopt the report as it stood, recommendations and all.

A county vote was attempted, but while it was proceeding a roll call was demanded and had, each county being called and the vote announced It resulted as follows Adams 3, no, Asotin, 3 yes Chehalis, 9, yes, Clallam, 3, yes Clarke 11, yes, Columbia, 8, yes, Cowlitz, 7, yes Douglas, 2 yes, 2 no; Franklin, 1, no Garfield 2 yes, 4 no, Island 3 yes, Jefferson 7 no King, 35 yes Kitsap, 5 yes, 1 no, Kittitas 9 no, Klickitat 6 yes, 2 no, Lewis, 4 yes, 6 no, Lincoln, 9 no, Mason, 4 yes, Okanogan, 4 no Pacific, 6 yes, Pierce, 22 yes, 4 no San Juan, 4 yes Skagit, 9 yes Skamania, 1 yes, Snohomish 9 yes Spokane, 26 no Stevens, 3 yes, 1 no Thurston, 2 yes, 8 no, Wahkiakum, 2 yes, Walla Walla, 4 yes, 10 no, Whatcom 9 yes, Whitman, 17 yes, 3 no, Yakima, 6 no. Whole number, 297, necessary, 149, ayes, 187, noes, 110 so the outside proxies are excluded, and the committee's report is adopted.

Huston said that upon the result of that vote he was no longer a member of the convention but he had been requested by several other gentlemen similarly situated to announce, which he did amid a good deal of laughter "that there would be a meeting of proxies forthwith in the livery stable below" Then he took his hat and departed with cheers and good natured laughter following him.

The report was adopted, on motion of Sol Smith, of Klickitat.

Mr Baker was excused, at his own request, from serving as secretary, and J C Moffet was substituted

The chair appointed Evans, of Tacoma, and Haines, of Seattle to escort Chairman Stiles to the chair and they performed their duty, and Mr Ferguson introduced him to the convention

Stiles said this was to him a most unexpected honor and he should have to beg the indulgence of the convention for the future, inasmuch as this was the first occasion upon which he had attempted to preside over such an assembly as this. He thanked them for the honor, both for himself and the county from which he came (Pierce), which had come within one vote of giving the largest republican majority in the territory and was only exceeded by that one vote by the county of King He promised another republican majority for the ticket nominated here, and exhorted the convention to nominate the best men, and go against the enemy with no traitors in the rear and with a resolve that this shall be in the future as in the past a republican commonwealth.

COMMITTEE ON PLATFORM

After its Appointment the Convention Takes a Recess to Night.

The first order of business was the appointment of a committee on platform and resolutions, one from each council district and one at large

A roll call by counties resulted in yeas 202, nays 95

Pending the count sundry county caucus meetings were announced which gave indication that the intervening time would be pretty well filled up by caucus and committee work

The convention was then declared adjourned, in accordance with the above vote until 8 P M

WITHOUT A SHADOW OF TRUTH

Victoria Sealers Indignant Over Sensational Report

VICTORIA B C Sept 4.—The San Francisco Examiner of August 30 containing a sensational account of a supposititious raid to be made on Seal Islands, Behring sea has created lively indignation amongst those interested in sealing in this city

"Why" stated one of the owners, "the article is a complete tissue of falsehoods There is not the slightest ground for such a vile report. The article was concocted by a well known person here whose name I will divulge in a few days He is the marine engineer spoken of in the article. He approached several persons in this city, who own sealing schooners, and broached the scheme. He apparently was trying to get foundation for a sensational item for the American press. We would have nothing to do with the scheme He then held his imaginary meeting himself and had a report sent to the Examiner It is a deliberate attempt to vilify and injure our position by making pirates of us through the medium of the press

Several other gentlemen interested in sealing utterly denied the report. Hunter Folger mentioned as being at the meeting is at present on the Penelope in Behring sea as a hunter

Sealing owners are thoroughly incensed over the matter, and will take immediate steps to prove the falsity of the yarn and show the affair up in its true colors. Public opinion is all with the sealers and it is generally considered that the dispatches were most unwarranted and manufactured out of whole cloth.

THE CAPITAL OF WASHINGTON

Olympia Relies Upon Her Just Merits

OLYMPIA Sept 2.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

It is somewhat unfortunate that the question of the location of the capital of the new state of Washington is to be submitted at a time when the general election of officers of the new commonwealth is to take place from the fact that it will in large degree enter into the political combinations and jobbery incident to such a contest Many of the people living in remote counties from those which put forth candidates for the contested honor care but little for a choice while the aspirations of local and state party favorites will afford an opportunity for making the question one of party trade and personal jobbery It is a question which if submitted on its merits would doubtless receive fair consideration and secure a just verdict at the hands of the people and that would be fully and conscientiously be done would be in favor of

OLYMPIA

The city which has so well supported the honors under our territorial form of government. The adaptability of this city for remaining the seat of government is not a matter of conjecture nor will it have to be determined as in any new selection by the results of a practical test It has become noted not alone for its unequaled climate considerations, rendering it during the winter months the time when the solons assemble in their legislative capacity the most congenial point yet named for the personal comfort of those charged with the grave duties of lawmakers but its social moral and political tone is such as to guarantee the best possible results from their labors. The history of our legislature so far, has been singularly devoid of the chicanery and intrigue that has disgraced many territorial as well as state capitals The hospitality of the people is proverbial Her local representatives have always been controlled by a broad gauge view of the rights and privileges of every portion of the territory and lavish in appropriations for objects of a general nature no matter what district was immediately benefited thereby Olympia has been content with being the seat of government has asked for nothing more, while according to east and west alike the location of public institutions, and appropriations for their support based upon a fair and equitable distribution commensurate with the greatest good for the largest number She has cordially aided in placing the university at Seattle one hospital for the insane at Steilacoom, while according to the Eastern subdivision another asylum at Medical Lake and the penitentiary at Walla Walla She has so far as her influence went, given to the river counties the only other public institution located under territorial law, the school for defective youth at Vancouver These institutions were permanently located at a time when it was confidently expected that Olympia would remain in undisturbed possession of the capitol and were it not for the aid that rival competitors expect to derive from real estate speculations by a change of location, it is safe to say that the present site would remain undisturbed.

WHY SHOULD A CHANGE BE MADE?

Is it on account of geographical position? A study of the map of our country will show that other considerations must have almost invariably controlled a choice, and if before the telegraph had annihilated time and the railroads shortened distances true business centers were selected for the location of the main wheels of the governmental system, how much more now should such considerations affect a choice when they are the means of removing the last objection to the argument of geographical metes and bounds! Olympia is, to-day, the point that will best subserve the business interests as the state capitol. Situated at the head of navigation on the great Puget sound, the nearest point to the magnificent country bordering on the mighty Columbia river the most accessible to the thriving communities of the ocean counties and Gray's harbor, and equally accessible from Eastern Washington as any other point west of the mountains with a rapidly developing country such as the whole Sound coast and river districts presents where is there a rival which can present a tithe of these most weighty of considerations for preference. Where is there a citizen who thought of a change until North Yakima needed a boom to relieve her from the odium of bad faith towards the old town of Yakima practiced by a powerful corporation to subserve its selfish interests? Where was there a newspaper which saw in Ellensburgh any essential adaptation for the seat of government until a land ring began trading town lots for advertising space, supplemented by ready made reading notices" furnished by the same enterprising Capital Park Association? Where is there an individual who can look upon the photographic views of the capital park at Ellensburgh taken from a purely imaginative sketch by the late James Pickett, and embellished by all the art which his skill could command, and declare that such a bleak level waste can ever be made to compare with the beautiful tract of land on Capitol hill dedicated by the founder of Olympia to the people as a site for the state capitol forever?

The disinterested opinion of non residents of Olympia, surely cannot be overdrawn, even if it be claimed that our own people are partial in their judgment on this question. Those who have been brought hither on legislative duty bear witness, with singular unanimity to the merits of Olympia, in all respects, as a political center The members of the constitutional convention were more than pleased with their surroundings while here, notwithstanding our hotel facilities were not what they should have been, a desideratum that will soon be supplied by one of the best hotels on the coast. This feeling of comfort and good will seemed to increase as the session was prolonged and if the question had been clearly delegated to them to locate the site, or if it could be left to their votes in October to select the place the friends of Olympia would not fear the result

IT SHOULD BE THE DUTY

Of every citizen who has the welfare of the whole people at heart to keep this question out of the partisan pot. Every candidate who attempts make this matter the subject of barter by which to advance personal ends should be defeated at the polls. It is a matter of too much present and future importance for it to be made a hobby for either party or for any candidates, to ride upon into place and power Let it be decided as a question in which all take a personal interest and feel a mutual pride, and Olympia will take her chances confident of victory, and will cheerfully accept the result, whatever it may be All she asks is FAIR PLAY

THE RACE CONFLICT.

Four of the Negro Leaders Killed and Two Arrested.

A DARING OUTRAGE PERPETRATED

A Band of Negroes Burn Down a Man's Store and Threaten His Life—A Posse Starts in Pursuit

NEW ORLEANS Sept. 4 A special from Greenwood Miss, says "From present appearances it [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the seat of war [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] leaders named Adolph Horton Scott M [illegible] M J D [illegible] and Jack Dial, [illegible] [illegible] The excitement among the negroes was augmented by a report that a peaceful negro had been killed during the night for refusing to take up arms [illegible] the white people

Upon arrival of the troops it was learned that a party of about 160 negroes, well armed with Winchesters were encamped near Cane Land a distance of six or eight miles from Minter City A reconnoitering party of citizens numbering about fifty men was organized and proceeded to interview the belligerent blacks. After riding for some time through a dense forest of cane and vines they arrived at the place designated as the camp of the negroes but they had moved to some other place Search was at once instituted. The party while passing through Flankton, came upon Adolph Horton and Jack Dial and they were commanded to surrender They drew pistols and started to run when they were shot down

The other leaders were killed this morning while resisting arrest.

Thomas Allen and Cromwell the moving spirits of the insurrection have not been arrested but the whites and better class of negroes are determined to bring them to justice

The best of feeling prevails between the whites and better class of negroes.

A DARING OUTRAGE.

A Squad of Negroes Burn Down a Man's Store and Threaten His Life

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4.—The Times-Democrat's Greenwood Miss. special says The most daring outrage since the beginning of the troubles in the upper part of the county was perpetrated by George Allen and his squad of fifteen negroes last night by the burning of Mr Jamison's store at Shady Grove on the Tallahassee river They went there and asked for powder and shot Jamison refused to let them have any They told him that they would either burn his house or kill him They caught him and set fire to his house firing off their arms in the meantime and making other hostile demonstrations Jamison got away and went to Sunnytown informing the people of what had happened About the same time a negro deserter from Allen's band came up and offered to pilot the whites to Allen's camp if they would spare him and his two brothers, who were among Allen's men About 200 men at once started for the hostile camp, which is about six miles above Sunnyside, but it has not been learned whether they have succeeded in capturing them yet It is not likely that Allen will be taken alive as he is a very desperate negro.

It now transpires that the negro whom he killed last Monday night for refusing to take up arms against the whites was his own brother

Yesterday evening a sheriff's posse got sight of two negroes who had gone to Cleveland for ammunition The negroes jumped from their mule and fled into the canebrake The posse captured the mule and a Winchester rifle carrying [illegible] pounds of buck shot and five pounds of powder

Further particulars from up the river confirm the statement that the four negro leaders [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] up to yesterday were killed by [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] while resisting arrest.

The number of hostile negroes is now estimated at from 100 to 150, and they are still in large squads one of which is led by George Allen and the other by a man named Hickett. The object of the sheriff's is to capture the leaders and deal with them according to law The followers are merely ignorant negroes who hardly understand what they are about.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

In this as in every other locality where it is known, there are hundreds of persons who are taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla To those we want to say one word. In nine cases out of every ten it is effecting specific cures. But word comes to us occasionally of people who report that it operates too freely upon the bowels. We want to call the attention of those to the fact that they are not following the printed instructions and are taking too much of it. If it acts too freely reduce the dose, never taking any more at any time than causes easy and perfect action. Keep this injunction in mind and take it regularly for a while and do not indulge in too much greasy food, and we will have your testimonial within a fortnight. If taken under the conditions it is an absolute cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headaches, constipation, face eruptions and liver and kidney disorders. It may be asked how it can possibly cure so many ailments. But the reason is clear All those troubles are the legitimate result of improper liver and kidney action or impaired digestive organs. Its effects upon those functions are as astonishing to the medical fraternity as to the thousands who are daily taking it.

HIS OWNER WON A BIG FORTUNE

Races in Montana and at Hampden Park—Baseball in Eastern Cities—League and Association Games.

RACE TRACK, SHEEPSHEAD BAY, Sept. 4.—A cloud of dust, a flash of silk, the shouts of 20,000 persons, and Chaos, son of Rayon D'Or and Lillie R., won $60,000 for his owner, W. L. Scott. The favorite, St. Carlo, was a good second. In fact, many thought he had won, as the finish could not be seen as it was opposite the club house, and it was only when No. 19 went up that the crowd was surprised and sure as to the winner.

The twenty three starters, after two breaks, got away to a beautiful start. Santiago had the advantage, with Marie Lovell second, Onaway, King's Own, Protection, Pena R., Sam Doxey, and Prodigal Son were next. The others were well bunched, with St. Carlo in a bad position. At the end of the first furlong they were stretched across, and almost aligned. At the head of the homestretch Chaos had a lead of two lengths. Eberlee and St. Carlo were next. By this time half the field was whipping, but it helped them none, as the leader still held his own. As they came to the regular judges stand, Carlo and Sinaloa began to close up, but the distance was too short, and Chaos got the verdict by a good neck. St. Carlo was two lengths in front of Sinaloa.

NEW MEXICO [illegible] STATEHOOD

A Catholic Priest Chosen Chaplain of the Constitutional Convention

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 4.—The convention to-day completed its permanent organization and agreed upon the appointment of standing committees. The incident of the day was the election of a chaplain. For the first time in the history of constitutional conventions a Protestant minister was pitted against a Catholic clergyman, and the latter came off victorious by a majority of ten votes. This is considered by many as a test vote on the strength of the public school question, which without doubt will be the most important throughout the whole session. The committees will consist of members-elect on the legislative and executive and judicial departments and on elective franchise, on education, on congressional requirements and taxation, on public institutions and buildings, on public and private organizations, on revision, adjustment and enrollment, on preamble, bill of rights, schedule and miscellaneous subjects and one from each county on apportionment. Conspicuous and active members of the convention are Mariano Otero, J. Francisco Chavez and Trinidad Romero, who have represented New Mexico in congress; Thomas B. Catron and W. A. Clancey, prominent attorneys of Santa Fe, who have served in various territorial judicial capacities; Judge W. C. Hazeldine, Pedro Perea and F. [illegible] Stover of Albuquerque, the latter formerly a lieutenant governor of Kansas; A. J. Fountain, formerly lieutenant governor of Texas, and W. L. Rynerson of Dona Ana; Judge Ball and ex-Associate Justice Bristol, of Silver City; Judge Kelly and ex-Governor and Secretary W. G. Ritch of Socorro; Leo W. Pritchard, attorney; Jefferson Reynolds and Nicholas Galles, of Sierra. Judge Trimble of Albuquerque, the temporary chairman, was formerly a member of congress from Kentucky.

THE ARID LAND SURVEYS.

Report of Acting Director Silling of the Work Done in July

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—T. C. Silling, acting director of the geological survey, has made a report to the secretary of the interior of the progress made during the month of July in the surveys for the irrigation and reclamation of the arid lands of the West.

Under the topographic division the total area surveyed was [illegible] square miles, operations being continued in California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico and Nevada.

In the hydraulic division one field party in California commenced the survey of Clear lake with a view to ascertaining its capabilities as a reservoir site and ascertaining the best means of storing water and supplying it to the lands below its outlet.

Donner lake, near Truckee, in the Western Nevada section, is being surveyed. It is thought that by the construction of a dam two miles below the lake's outlet a large body of water can be collected at a very moderate cost.

The work on the Rio Grande section was confined to a careful survey of the very large reservoir site, which seems practicable by the construction of a dam on the Rio Grande river near El Paso. This project the report says is one of profound interest and perhaps will involve international questions. Care has been taken to avoid any action which would complicate such questions if they should arise.

A POSTAL TELEGRAPH.

Dr. Norvin Green Disapproves of Wanamaker's Scheme.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker recently summoned to Washington various officials of the telegraph companies in order to lay before them some details of and make proposals for a new postal telegraph service which he has had under consideration for some time.

Dr. Green, president of the W. U. T. Co., was one of the officials, and has just returned from the conference. He gave this afternoon to a reporter some of the details of the proposed scheme.

Dr. Green did not look upon the project in a very favorable light. It would be distinctly a second class delivery service. There would be no immediate delivery by the postoffices, but there would be stated times of delivery as in the case of letters now. Business and commercial men, he believed, would not avail themselves of such a service when they could have first-class service messages delivered by the company the very moment they were received.

It is, however, an extension of the telegraph service that forms the chief feature of Wanamaker's scheme. There are at present 59,000 postoffices in the United States, of which about 19,000 have telegraph service. Dr. Green said that of the 19,000 receiving offices which the company now has about two-thirds were [illegible] less. Dr. Green was very much inclined to doubt the financial success of extending the line to 40,000 little places in order to make the blessings of the telegraph service well nigh universal for the people.

THE PEACE RIVER COUNTRY.

Frosts, Drouth and Devastating Forest Fires There.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 4.—A Winnipeg, Manitoba, special to the Pioneer Press says: Thomas Anderson, factor for the Hudson Bay Company in the Peace river country, has arrived from the north.

He says that the summer has been very dry in the Peace river region and against the growth of the crops. There have also been frosts, injuring the crops almost everywhere.

The woods are being destroyed south of the Peace river fields. The fires never ceased all summer and have driven out the game and destroyed the berries (which are an important source of food supply to the Indians both in summer and in winter) from the burnt district, so there is likely to be more hunger than ever this coming winter. Unless rain falls the fires will be still more destructive before winter sets in.

The Beaver Indians, natives of the country, are dying out very fast, but the St. Crees, who are coming from the Lesser Slave lake and vicinity, are increasing.

EN ROUTE TO THE COAST.

Delegates to the Conference of Charities and Corrections Leave Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—A special train left Chicago this evening carrying 100 delegates to the conference of charities and corrections soon to be held in San Francisco. Most of the delegates arrived here last night and this morning, assembled at the Grand Pacific hotel, where the headquarters were opened. They were from all parts of the United States. The president of the conference is Right Reverend Bishop Gillespie of Western Michigan, who this afternoon held an informal reception. The party will be under the conduct of Secretary Wines of the Illinois state board of public charities. The programme includes a reception and banquet at Denver and a stop next Monday in Salt Lake City, where the party will attend service in the Mormon Tabernacle. San Francisco will be reached Tuesday evening. The conference will be in session one week. Many of the delegates will return by way of Portland, [illegible] where a second and supplementary meeting will be held.

UNION LABOR CONVENTION

A State Ticket Nominated in Iowa—The Platform Adopted

DES MOINES, Sept. 4.—The union labor party held its convention here to-day, nominating a full state ticket, as follows: For governor, S. B. Downing of Davis county; lieutenant governor, Ezra Brownell of Madison county; judge of the supreme court, M. H. Jones of Davis county; superintendent of schools, Mrs. Harriet Bellonge of Polk county; railroad commissioner, L. H. Griffith of Cass county.

The platform favors the election of United States senators by the people, the paying of the national debt at its face value, the loaning of money to farmers by the government at a low rate of interest, government operation of railroads and telegraph lines, an income tax, the Australian ballot and the reclamation of the unearned land grants.

THE EXTRA SESSION.

A Decision Will Be Reached at a Cabinet Meeting Saturday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—It is understood that a meeting of the members of the cabinet will be held at noon on Saturday next. The subject of an extra session of congress will probably be discussed then, and a decision reached.

Heavy Storms in Dakota

ST. PAUL, Sept. 4.—Reports from North Dakota and portions of this state have been received telling of a heavy storm last night. Grand Forks says that a terrible electrical and wind storm prevailed last night. The telegraph poles between there and [illegible] were blown down and communication was later interrupted. The damage in that neighborhood is thought to be heavy. The Jamestown correspondent of the Pioneer Press says: The heaviest wind, rain and electrical storm in years prevailed last night, but no great damage has been reported. The weather is now wintry in nature and considerable damage will result.

Fatal Hungarian Riot

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 4.—A special from Greensburg, Pa., says: The news has just reached here of a riot among the Hungarians at the Standard mines near Mount Pleasant, in which one Hungarian was so badly beaten that he died shortly afterwards and one other was severely shot and seriously hurt. Others were hurt. The fight was occasioned by a dispute between two Huns over a woman.

The Bankruptcy Convention

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 4.—The national bankruptcy convention reconvened this morning. Armour and Other Dressed Beef Potentates Refused to Attend, So the Senators Adjourned in Disgust

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The senatorial committee investigating the dressed beef and transportation industries arrived at a position this morning when it became necessary to resort to vigorous measures, or acknowledge the whole affair a farce.

G. F. Swift, a millionaire dressed beef dealer, had been subpenaed for the third time and it was reported that he had agreed to appear this morning. He did not come.

P. D. Armour, on whom a summons had been served, stated that he could not come at the hour named but would let the commission know when he would be able to attend.

Secretary George T. Williams, of the Union stock yards, who was ordered to appear with a list of stockholders of the company and other information, was on hand, but on advice of his counsel refused to give any names.

The first witness examined was President Sherman of the stock yards company. His testimony gave an insight into the extent of the business and methods of the company. In answer to the question as to whether there were any relations between the stock yards at Omaha and Kansas City and those at Chicago, he said there was none.

WILL REPORT TO THE SENATE.

At the afternoon meeting Chairman Vest, in discussing the absence of Mr. Armour and other gentlemen, said he was sorry these gentlemen had refused their attendance, but although they could compel attendance they could not compel unwilling witnesses to testify to all they knew.

"I have here a telegram," continued Senator Vest, "about which I have desired to personally ask Mr. Armour, but as he has refused to appear here I will read it anyway. It was sent me by a gentleman about whose respectability there can be no question."

The message is as follows:

FREEMAN, Pa., Dec. 18, 1883.

Can't allow Schwab to continue killing live stock. If he will not stop, make other arrangements and make the price so we can get his trade.

ARMOUR & COMPANY.

The following was then unanimously passed, after which the committee adjourned:

WHEREAS, Philip Armour, Nelson Morris, Louis F. Swift, Frank E. Vogel, J. S. Newman and Jacob Meyer having been duly and lawfully summoned to appear as witnesses before this committee have repeatedly refused to obey the same, it is ordered that the facts be reported to the chairman of the senate of the United States at its next session.

MR. ARMOUR'S STATEMENT

A reporter for the Associated Press called on Mr. Armour and asked for an interview. Mr. Armour made the following statement:

"The reason that we did not appear before the senatorial committee was that we knew we could not expect fair treatment from the hands of Senator Vest, who is notoriously on record as opposed to the dressed beef business. He is the champion and advocate of the St. Louis dressed cattle market and opposed to Chicago interests. He has been friendly to all hostile beef inspection bills that have been introduced in various state legislatures against Chicago dressed beef, which, if passed, would have crushed this business. We are perfectly willing to appear before an impartial committee and give all information pertaining to our business which is not strictly of a private nature. We have never exerted any influence to depress the price of cattle or to enhance the price of dressed beef. On the other hand it is a well known fact that cattle are worth $1 per hundred more than they would be if it was not for the dressed beef industry, and we can get a great deal more out of the bullock than the butcher or a man who kills in small quantities. We have never had any association with Messrs. Hammond or Swift directly or indirectly in the purchase of cattle. The telegram Mr. Vest read this afternoon for the sake of getting it on record was directed to our own agent, and we had a perfect right to instruct him that he should not kill cattle to be sold on dressed beef, and it is entirely stripped of its force when the fact is understood that the man was our own representative."

RUSSELL SAGE AS A PROPHET.

He Predicts Better Times for Farmers and Railroads—[illegible]

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Speaking of the recent advance in the stock market, Russell Sage said: "I think there is no doubt that the advance is caused by the favorable condition of the country. It is not a mere speculative spirit. We have been passing through a period of unusual depression in values. This has been due in great measure to overbuilding of railroads. They have been built in advance of their paying power, but in time [illegible] meet the growth of population and business. We are [illegible] this year the largest crop ever raised in this country. When these are gathered and sold it means wealth to farmer, and the transportation of them to market means prosperity to the railroad.

Our financial situation is such as to give confidence. We forget that the treasury is able to find the money for its silver. Some might say the [illegible] silver inflation. I won't stop to argue that point now. I am satisfied to leave the silver question as it is now. Congress has not gone too far in its silver legislation. Personally I am a bimetallist and I believe in protection for the products of the country. Silver is one of our products. We have always used it as currency. We can well afford to let well enough alone and still continue a conservative use of silver.

I have great confidence that we are on the upward turn of improvement and that the present market [illegible] reflects that confidence. It is the commencement of what will ultimately be a higher range of values for all properties that have a good record or fair prospects. I see nothing to check the movement for a year or more."

THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

State Conventions Held in Pennsylvania and New York

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 4.—The state prohibition convention was called to order this morning, George Kempton of Sharon as permanent chairman. The usual committees were appointed and retired for conference. It is understood that the committee on resolutions at once engaged in a wrangle over a woman.

When the committee reported, Dr. John Blackmer of Springfield was nominated for governor, and B. F. Sturtevant, of Jamaica Plain, for lieutenant governor.

The platform presented advocates the insertion of a prohibition clause in the constitution of every state, says local option, while a good thing locally, is totally inadequate on the whole, heartily rejects high license as opposed to experience and utterly misleading in its promises.

NEW YORK PROHIBITIONISTS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The prohibition state convention [illegible] this morning, with many lady delegates. Professor A. A. Hopkins of Rochester was temporary chairman. The usual committees were appointed and recess taken.

When the convention reassembled permanent organization was made. The committee on finance reported that there was a deficit of $[illegible]00, but the several committees having [illegible] ten thousand dollars were needed to pay the debts and meet the expenses of the coming campaign. This would [illegible] destroy the liquor traffic. In a short time $[illegible] was pledged by those present. Adjourned until to-morrow morning.

NEW TIDE LANDS IN WASHINGTON

The Land Office Decides in Favor of the Government

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The acting commissioner of the general land office has decided a point relative to certain lands on the west coast of Washington which have been formed by [illegible] tide waters since the original surveys and are between the shore and the meandered coast line described by these surveys. The question at issue was [illegible]. He decides that the lands belong to the United States, and that any lands so formed along the water at any point would also belong to the government in like manner.

THE CRONIN TRIAL

More Talesmen Excused from Serving on the Jury.

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The work of securing a jury in the Cronin case resumed this morning. The only matter of interest developed was the ruling by Judge McConnell, excusing Talesmen West and Turner for cause.

Turner testified that he was a member of the American League or Independent Order of Deputies, whose object is to prevent the members of the Roman Catholic church from holding or controlling political offices in this country. The talesmen, however, thought that this would not influence his action and that he could give the defendants a fair trial even if it were shown that they were members of the Clan-na-Gael. The defense challenged him for cause and the court sustained the challenge.

A number of other talesmen were examined. Two were temporarily passed and a recess taken until to-morrow morning in order to give defendants counsel opportunity to consult as to whether they will turn the four men now in waiting over to the state for acceptance.

PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRATS

The Platform Applauds the Tariff Policy of Cleveland

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 4.—The democratic state convention met this morning. Hon. Samuel W. Wherry of Cumberland was chosen temporary chairman. His speech of acceptance [illegible] he eulogized Cleveland, the mention of whose name received great applause. The usual committees were chosen and a recess was taken.

Congressman J. B. Riley was made permanent chairman.

The platform applauds the action of President Cleveland in taking toward tariff reform, reaffirms the declaration of principles made by the democratic party at St. Louis in 1888, especially that demanding revision and reduction of tariff taxes, favors the admission free of duty of all raw material where it will enlarge our product and increase a demand for labor, denounces trusts, accepts the decision of the people of Pennsylvania on the prohibition amendment of the traffic in ardent spirits, favors the Australian ballot system, and advocates liberal pension laws for honorably discharged soldiers, but the giving of pensions to other persons is denounced as an injustice to the nation.

Edward A. Bigler, of Clearfield county was nominated for state treasurer. The convention then adjourned.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONERS.

Representatives From Many States Meet at Denver, Colorado

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 4.—The twentieth annual convention of National Insurance Commissioners met in the supreme court room to-day with representatives from Colorado, Dakota, Delaware, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Wisconsin present. Luper, of Pennsylvania, read a most excellent letter upon "Government Bonds and the Reserve Thereon." Several other papers were read, when the convention appointed a committee to bring in names as candidates for officers and to select the place of the next meeting. A recess was then taken until to-morrow.

For the past two years the daily press of this city have been recording the many strange and wonderful cures performed by Drs Darrin at 235 Fifth street. From curiosity to learn something of the doctors and their method of treatment we concluded to visit their parlors. We found their rooms filled with patients suffering from almost every conceivable form of disease, and much to our satisfaction, upon interrogating a number of those present, their answer was unanimous that the doctors were rapidly dissipating their ailments. A number of persons who had not yet seen the doctors were anxiously awaiting their turn. An old man, just arrived in the city that morning from east of the mountains, was speaking of the hard time he had to find the office. At last, said the old man, I enquired of a small boy on the street where 235 Fifth street was. The kid spoke up and brightly answered: "Oh! you want to see the Drs. Darrin, do you? I know where it is. The other day they cured my ma who had been lame two years with rheumatism." As the old man had finished his story, the doctor came into the room with a young man whom he introduced as William F. Hasenberg, residing at the southwest corner of Twelfth and Washington streets, recently from California, and who had just been successfully operated on for strabismus. His eyes had been badly crossed since a child and in one short painless operation the eye was perfectly straightened. The reporter gathered several names of parties cured who had no hesitation in giving their reference.

Mr. J. R. Cunningham, of Wapinita, Or., was cured some days ago of almost total deafness in a few treatments, which was considered by himself and friends almost a miracle.

Judge Kalahan of Kalama, W. T., had four large tumors removed from his ear, where they had been growing for twenty-five years, and was very high in praise of the doctors.

Among the most enthusiastic was Dr. McDowell of this city, who was relieved of muscular prostration of the back and lower limbs and also of a disease of the eye. He had exhausted his own knowledge and practice in his case, and was finally persuaded to try the electric treatment which resulted in his cure.

Mr. J. M. Tayler of Mitchell, Cook county, Or., was next heard. His case was one of consumption. Though he had been given up as incurable by physicians in San Francisco and other places, he is now greatly improved by the system of rectal injections.

There were scores of others too numerous to mention. Drs. Darrin are not charlatans or deceivers. They practice upon well known scientific principles, and the multitude of cures they have performed and are constantly effecting is a full and ample refutation of any and all charges of "quackery" which may be made against them who are envious of their successful practice.

Drs. Darrin's Place of Business

Drs. Darrin can be consulted free at 235 Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland. Office hours from 10 to 4 o'clock daily; evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12. All curable chronic diseases, loss of manhood, blood taints, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhoea, stricture, spermatorrhoea, seminal weakness or loss of desire of sexual power in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cures of private diseases guaranteed, and never published in the papers. Most cases can receive home treatment after a visit to the doctors' office. Inquiries answered and circulars sent free.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, SEPT 5.

CIVILIZATION OF THE SOUTH.

Governor Gordon of Georgia on the 3d inst. addressing the Confederate Veterans' association at Atlanta spoke doubtfully as to whether "the southern people under their changed condition may ever hope to witness another civilization which shall equal that which began with their Washington and ended with their Lee." Governor Gordon's words are melancholy proof that he has not yet risen to the level of perceiving that Southern civilization to-day is big with promise of a better day than it ever saw before. The civilization of the old South had human slavery for its corner stone. The civilization of the new South is at least constitutionally pledged to freedom and equal civil rights. The civilization of the old South educated the people to valor and high military spirit, but a true civilization must rest on something more than bulldog courage and guns and drums and all the diablerie of war. We are not saying that there was not much that was fine and noble in Southern life before the war but there was also a black blot of barbarism that was so fast in color that not even the blood of the frightful war between the sections entirely washed it out. It is undeniable that no people, however fine their natural fiber and instincts, could rest their civilization on slave labor without mingling much shame with its glory. The contact with slavery certainly could not ennoble a people.

The Norman was brave enough in the days when he had his heel planted on the neck of the Saxon, but it was not until the Saxon ceased to be a Norman serf until conqueror and conquered stood shoulder to shoulder Englishmen all, that Europe counted England among its great powers. To use a homely simile slavery to the old South was "the negro on the valve" of her steamboat, and it is sad to notice that Governor Gordon should hesitate to affirm that, imperfect as the civilization of the South may seem to-day without slavery, it is undeniably better than it ever was with slavery.

Governor Gordon's words are sentimental and sophistical rather than statesmanlike. Is the South less gallant and high-spirited to-day than before the war? Is she less humane, less just, less enlightened, less pious or less pure than under the old regime? Governor Gordon knows she is not, and he knows that she is relatively richer, with wealth more widely distributed. The old South was agricultural in its industry, it was paternalism in the shape of patriarchal barbarism.

The association of Washington with Lee is unfortunate. Washington freed his slaves when slavery was believed to be a dying system, Washington denounced Jefferson for sowing the seed of secession and state supremacy. General Lee with all his private virtues, cannot be truthfully painted as an apt or enthusiastic imitator of Washington and because the slave civilization of the South, that waxed fat after Washington's death, bred leaders that turned their backs on Washington's political construction of the constitution, Lee and other great soldiers of the South tried with their swords to cut down the flagstaff of the Union.

Does Governor Gordon think that the South to-day opening its mines, working its quarries, multiplying its railroads and its manufactures, winning Northern capital to its borders, is of less hopeful promise than it was when black gangs of slaves cultivated its plantations under fear of the lash, when human flesh was sold from the auction block, when families were parted by slave traders, when marriage was burlesqued and inhumanity was limited only by the sullen self restraint of self-interest?

Governor Gordon cannot be in earnest; he cannot honestly question whether the Southern people, under their changed condition, may ever hope to witness another civilization which shall equal that which began with their Washington and ended with their Lee." What was there in that old civilization that Governor Gordon should bewail its passage? It had brave men and fair women, it had wealth concentrated in the hands of the few, its labor was slave, its poor white masses stood for the weakness and paralysis of incarnated ignorance and indolence, as compared with the intelligent, energetic small farmers and artisans that represented the white masses of free labor at the North. Is there any good feature in this picture of the old South that the new South lacks? Is it not true that the black mole of slavery which once marred the gallant face of the old South is absent from the fair visage of the new South? If the face of the mother still seems beautiful to Governor Gordon, how can he fail to see that the daughter more than equals the mother's charms. Governor Gordon's failure to see that the civilization he laments was grossly inferior in all worthy attributes to the civilization of his present hour is born of the same sentimentalism that produced the proposition to make Lee's birthday a public holiday which of course means an annual celebration of the Lost Cause, an annual lesson in sectionalism, an unpatriotic education for a people that pretend to have accepted the results of the war in good faith.

THE OHIO DEMOCRACY.

The democrats in Ohio present to the country a pitiful spectacle of weakness. In their platform they declare that the democracy of Ohio, in convention assembled approve the declaration of principles made by the national democracy in St Louis in 1888, and especially that part of it demanding reduction of tariff taxes. "We will continue the battle for tariff reform until the cause of the people is triumphant." But they turn squarely around after this unequivocal declaration for tariff reform and nominate for governor ex Congressman James E Campbell a high protection democrat, a lieutenant of Randall and a politician whose public career has been marked by open opposition to free trade. This is a wily political trap to catch the conscience of all shades of democracy. The protectionist can cast his vote for the candidate, the free trader can vote for the platform and thus by a little jugglery, the leaders hope to poll the full party strength.

Mr. Campbell had no absolute triumph for he was bitterly fought in the convention. There were democrats there who were characterized by more bravery and political honesty than he. Campbell represents the machine, the Standard Oil ring, the Payne element of purchasing tendency, the moneyed monopolists, who have disgraced Ohio politics by ill-concealed bribery and almost open attempts to force legislative enactment without regard to cost. The opposition to him was headed by Lawrence T Neal. This element of the party is inspired by the "Old Roman," Allen G Thurman, who stands for free trade outright, and who cannot be induced to sacrifice what he deems political principles to party expediency.

The situation in Ohio will give priceless instruction to the country. Examples such as these, barring transparent attempts at straddling, show that the democracy still means free trade. Dr Harter, the speaker chosen at the Ohio convention to express the sentiments of his party on tariff, proclaimed free trade in its broadest lines as the doctrine for which democracy has stood in the past and will continue to maintain in the future.

In his speech there were no subterfuges, no evasions, no disguises. There was no hypocritical cant about accumulations from unnecessary taxation lying idle in the national vaults and exhausting the resources of the country. There was no specious pleading for tax reduction or the relief of an overburdened treasury without detriment to the protective system. It was an unequivocal argument for free trade pure and simple as a system which had enriched England and would promote the prosperity of all classes in America. The orator did not hesitate to present this bold challenge to republicans even in the face of the studied attempt of the democratic gubernatorial candidate to confine platform declarations to state and local issues. Mr Campbell is himself quoted as having admitted to a democratic newspaper that it would be impossible to carry Ohio on the issue of the tariff.

Those who view politics from an unprejudiced standpoint will be likely to agree with Mr Campbell. Ohio since 1860 has only been carried by the democrats six times, and never when the republican party was harmoniously organized. The democrats have elected three out of fourteen governors in nearly thirty years. The republican party presents to the citizens of Ohio a united front, a candidate for governor with a solid, unblemished record, who possesses the prestige of two straight, splendid victories and in addition to this the party's tariff attitude is clear and unmistakably for protection to native industry. Previous democratic administrations in Ohio have not secured popular approval and confidence. The people of the state will not fail to note the cowardly and misleading tricks of the democracy upon the tariff question. The candidate of that party is recognized as a tool of the most gigantic and oppressive trust that ever existed in this country, although there was the following plank in the democratic platform regarding trusts: "We regard trusts in whatever form organized, as the legitimate result of our present tariff system and we demand the repeal of all tariff taxes that enable them to extort from the people exorbitant prices for the products they control." In the light of facts such as these we are inclined to agree that the nomination of Mr Campbell is merely of a complimentary nature, and that he and the party he represents will be so thoroughly snowed under in the October election that they will imagine that a Kansas cyclone has struck democracy and brought on a premature political Waterloo.

OVERRUN WITH CRIMINALS.

Seattle it is said is infested with criminals to a degree never before known in her history. The citizens of that town, upon a well remembered occasion after having been [illegible] with the insolent boldness and flagrant criminality of vicious vagrants until patience and forbearance was exhausted, read a severe lesson upon the use of hemp that had a salutary effect upon this class there for some years. While good citizens generally deplore an unlawful resort to punishment they have not infrequently been so wrought upon by the prevalence of crime of the more outrageous types and the apparent indifference of those charged with the duty of dealing with criminals that they have forgotten prudence and inflicted penalty without due authority of law.

While sober second thought does not justify such a procedure and while the safety and prosperity of a community depends upon obedience to law and respect for its calm and deliberate methods there is for the time being often a reasonably fair excuse for a sudden outburst of popular indignation in the dilatory action of courts and the inefficient efforts of duly constituted authorities to arrest criminals and punish crime. When a city is over run with turbulent criminals one of two things is evident. Its police force is either inefficient or insufficient and it is much more likely to be the former than the latter. If the former, judging from the long dominion of the venal crew that scheme and plan to protect criminals rather than punish crime in this city the case is if not altogether hopeless at least of a hopeless type. If the latter the remedy is easily applied. Seattle will do well in view of present conditions and past experience to satisfy herself as to the cause of the influx of criminals and take such measures as are necessary to convince them that the city is not being rebuilt for their occupancy or profit. "Half a dozen burglaries a day and frequent highway robberies" call for a prompt remedy, and inasmuch as the Seattle of 1889 contains a number of people who were residents of the Seattle of 188-, it is not the part of wisdom to trust too much to luck and the leisure of the police in correcting evils so flagrant.

PRIVATE IRRIGATION ENTERPRISE.

Our dispatches of the 2d inst. announced that a company consisting of a number of members of the board of directors of the Northern Pacific railroad, Charles A Gregory, William J Bryson and G A Young, of Chicago and Walter N Granger, J D McIntyre and Albert Kleinschmidt of Helena, have entered into a contract and purchased over a million acres of Northern Pacific railroad land in Washington and Montana territories, and have placed several parties of engineers in the field to lay out the lines of canals ready for construction.

This is good news because private enterprise can build up systems of irrigation more cheaply, quickly and effectually than the government whose work is usually more expensive than work done by private contract and of inferior quality. Furthermore the question will surely be raised as to the right of the government to inaugurate a national system of irrigation. The New York Sun already asks the question:

> What business has the government to construct storage reservoirs and dig ditches and artesian wells to increase the value of land or to encourage agriculture in a state? For appropriations for rivers and harbors there is the justification that these subserve the general use and are the highways of national commerce. But where is the warrant for improving the land of a state at the cost of all the states?

If a national system of irrigation should be as slow of completion as the government scheme for improvement of navigation at the Cascades it would be many years before much aid to agriculture by Federal irrigation was furnished.

THE AMERICAN EXHIBIT AT PARIS.

The people of the United States have been congratulating themselves that their great and glorious country was making a splendid exhibit of itself at the Paris exposition. This feeling has been fed by the reports of correspondents of various journals setting forth with glowing detail the supremacy of American machinery, the conspicuousness of American inventive genius and the general superiority of everything from the land of "Yankee Doodle" and "Hail Columbia."

Now comes Editor Medill of the Chicago Tribune, and in a dozen lines dispels this dream of American grandeur, and tumbles the pride of the great republic in the dust. Ruthless man that he is he declares that "it would be better were we not represented at all, so poor is our exhibit, that the men at the head of it are without training, ability or aptitude for the position" and to crown all he asserts that the great exhibition "looked as if it were intended to show the immense superiority of the French over all the other nations of the earth in art and manufacture."

Verily, there is not much in such a report that is calculated to feed national pride. We may fall back upon the sublime consciousness that we have the best country in the world, that it is unsurpassed in inventive genius and mechanical skill, that it is the cradle of liberty and the home of the oppressed; that it is the birthplace of Washington and boasts a larger pension list than any other nation on the face of the globe, that it is the poor man's land and the home of the self-made millionaire; that it is the only country that burns fire-crackers on the Fourth of July and celebrates the 22d of February. Yet in spite of all this there is a discomfiture in the thought that these conceited Frenchmen will refuse to [illegible] the exhibit sent out as a specimen of our country's greatness [illegible] our intrinsic merits. And the [illegible] to merchandise in [illegible] condition for words to that effect presided over by individuals whose chief desire is to magnify their own interests, which they seek to do by bragging elaborately and talking bumptiously.

There is some consolation in the reflection that perhaps Editor Medill had not recovered from the seasickness incident to a rough voyage across the Atlantic when he penned this gloomy view of our exhibit at the World's fair. Our chief source of comfort, however lies in the fact that in 1892 we will have an opportunity to show these self sufficient Frenchmen and the rest of mankind how widely mistaken they are if they think that this is not a great country.

Leaders of the woman suffrage movement in Washington territory are planning for a vigorous campaign in the interest of the clause which leaves this question to the decision of the voters in the October election. Their plans so far as they have been developed, are to drop or ignore all side issues, divorce the measure that they advocate from all other questions and go before the people on the single proposition of the justice of the claim for woman's enfranchisement on the simple principle that "taxation without representation is tyranny." This is obviously the only hope of the suffragists for the success of their article and by working the plan vigorously but at the same time prudently and in the calm temper that becomes a public measure of importance, its advocates will no doubt be able to secure an earnest and respectable following, and the respectful consideration of their opponents. While it is not in the line of probability or even of possibility, that it will poll a majority vote it is but fair and reasonable to expect that the question will be divested of the ridicule that it has outlived in intelligent minds and treated as any other political question is dealt with solely upon its merits as they appeal to the understanding of the individual voter.

Indisputable evidence that Florence Blythe is the daughter of her father will it is promised be forthcoming in a few days. It is further announced that this evidence will be of a "sensational character." If the doughty old California millionaire Thomas Blythe had conducted his domestic affairs in the regulation manner provided by law and approved of decency, the public would have been spared much sensational stuff about his life that does not redound to the credit either of himself or the woman who is pushing the claim of this little girl to his fortune whether she was his wife or not. The failure of old California money bags to act upon the principle advanced by Joaquin Miller in one of his poems which declared it better to

> Wed one sweet woman and love her well

(Advice which however, the erratic bard failed to apply in his own case) has furnished rich picking for lawyers, golden opportunity for unscrupulous adventuresses, and a disgusting insight into the private lives of divers and sundry licentious men which the public might well have been spared.

Residents of Clark's Flat, Idaho are in a state of perturbation. Two men were inconsiderate enough to fall in love with the same girl—fair Jemima Frands—and not being able to settle the matter peaceably resorted to that ready arbiter of the border, the pistol, with such soothing effect that both were buried the next day. Why the decision in the case was not left to Jemima is not stated. In fact this bewitching damsel appears to have had nothing to do in the premises but to excite the admiration of the two valorous swains who rushed boldly out and emptied the contents of their revolvers into each other's bodies for her sake. Such bold determination on the part of love lorn swains is quite out of the common place, and a reasonable young woman should not object since it relieves her of all responsibility in deciding a matter of some importance. Besides she gets a little notoriety through it without getting hurt, a most unusual thing when a lover or husband happens to be of the blood thirsty sort.

The children of the Maybricks have been adopted by respectable responsible persons and will be properly brought up. The death of their weak, arsenic-eating father and the imprisonment for life of their frivolous guilty mother, will in the end be a profit to the luckless offspring of the pair since it insures them healthful wholesome home influences that would have been impossible with their ill-conditioned parents. The terms imposed upon the latter were pretty hard but having dictated the preliminaries themselves they had no just ground to complain of results. There is a finality about the disposal of criminals in England that makes the mother's lot in this instance scarcely less uncompromising than that of the father and insures the foster parents as peaceful and undisturbed possession of the children as though they had been born to them—a condition which all, who have undertaken the task of bringing up children not their own fully appreciate.

Men who have returned from Victoria and were present at the indignation meeting protesting against the seizure of British sealing schooners report that the dispatches sent to the various newspapers were largely relations of the imaginations of sensational correspondents. English politicians and capitalists who have such large financial investments in the United States will have to throttle frisky frothy Canada for it is to their interests to cultivate cordial relations with this country. The Canadians want someone to hold them in check for fear the other fellow will actually strike a blow. It pleases the people up there they can hold three indignation meetings every day, it don't hurt us.

It is to be hoped that the public will be spared further details of the Hamilton tragedy. The affair was disgraceful enough in the first rendition and subsequent developments have added if possible ten fold to its vileness. If Hamilton's friends have any regard for him, they will certainly not make any further bid for public sympathy by causing him to pose as the pitiful dupe of a depraved woman and her paramour but will permit him to retain some slight semblance of manhood by observing a discreet silence concerning the peculiar woes of the husband of a bawd.

A reporter with more verdancy than prudence addressed Russell B Harrison the president's son on his arrival at New York as "Prince Russell," and was quite severely snubbed for his pains. The younger Harrison, it is true had an excellent trip abroad but did not trade upon his father's exalted position to secure attention from distinguished persons across the sea. He is a wide awake successful young American and democratic newspapers cannot forgive him for having achieved good standing without it from the present administration.

It is very kind of generous democratic brethren to inform the nation what President Harrison is going to do with the extra session of congress, but a great many Americans exhibit the unnatural perversity of waiting to see for themselves just what the native good sense of the president will suggest.

Fred Ritter Causes a Loving Couple Considerable Trouble.

Elmer Anderson Found Dead in Bed Yesterday Morning—Captain Sebree and Family to Depart This Evening.

THEY HAD PLAYED BEFORE.—Police Captain [illegible] was yesterday morning surprised to find [illegible] youthful offenders, confined in an upper [illegible] city jail, engrossed in some very interesting game with pieces of white paper. The [illegible] were not supposed to have games of any [illegible] in their possession, so when the officer entered [illegible] clumsily tried to hide the evidences. [illegible] The slips of paper suddenly vanished [illegible] of the boys began to whistle a far-away [illegible] and another busied himself thumping his [illegible] on the table. Upon the officer's demand [illegible] the suspicious game, one of the youngsters [illegible] the slips of paper, which proved to be [illegible] less than a homemade deck of cards. [illegible] boys had found an old blank book, which [illegible] once dissected. The spots and figures on [illegible] were all correctly marked. It is needless to add that the deck of cards was stored away among the relics and heirlooms of the police department.

FELL FROM THE RAILROAD BRIDGE.—About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a man giving his name as W. R. Groop, had the misfortune to fall from the [illegible] railroad bridge, while crossing the river [illegible] East Portland depot. As the morning [illegible] pulled into the East Portland depot over the O. R. & N. Co.'s road, a lady having a sick child [illegible] Groop assisted her with her baggage, [illegible] procured her a conveyance, and while doing [illegible] the train left him. He walked across the [illegible] without trouble until he reached the west [illegible] where he stumbled over a misplaced [illegible] fell to the roadway below, a distance of [illegible] feet. Officers Collins, Warren and [illegible] found him some time after, and caused him [illegible] removed to the Portland hospital. Upon examination it was found that Groop's right leg was [illegible] near the hip joint. A severe gash was [illegible] over the right eye, exposing the bone. The injuries were attended to and Groop stands a good show of recovering.

THE ARLINGTON MINING COMPANY.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Arlington Mining Company was called Tuesday evening for the purpose [illegible] electing officers and transacting other miscellaneous business, but as no quorum was present an adjournment was taken until the 5th of November. W. K. Smith, the president, is at the [illegible], Jonathan Bourne, jr., the secretary, is East, [illegible] of the other stockholders are away taking a vacation somewhere. The company have just purchased an extensive plant, which will be set up at once. Mr. George Woodward has returned from San Francisco, having engaged the services of Messrs. Eckart & McKenzie, mining engineers, and with a force of mechanics will proceed to the mine next Saturday. Mr. C. A. Alisky, another one of the directors, left for the mines some time ago.

THE RECORD SMASHERS.—W. L. Scott's ch. c. [illegible], by Rayon d'Or, dam Lilly R., won the big Futurity stakes, valued at between $60,000 and [illegible], at Sheepshead bay yesterday, St. Carlo second and Sinaloa third; time, 1:18 4-5. This race was three-quarters of a mile dash and the [illegible] were at the post over half an hour, which [illegible] St. Carlo's chance of winning, as he carried [illegible] weight. The latter was the favorite and [illegible] betting was 2½ to 1. Eberle was next choice [illegible] St. Thomas and Penn P. 8 to 1, and Sinaloa and Helter Skelter 10 to 1. The others sold [illegible] to 50. In the three-fourths dash Cartoon [illegible] the 1:11 three-year-old records of El Rio Rey and Geraldine. Cartoon is the property of Dan Honig. A race between these three horses would now be very interesting.

ALLEGED LOVERS CRUELLY SEPARATED.—A man giving the name of Fred Ritter is causing a loving pair a mint of trouble, in fact he has succeeded in having them separated. Andrew Peterson and Maria Scoule are very friendly, Ritter alleges entirely too much so. He swore out warrants in Justice Phelan's court charging the pair with being criminally intimate, and at their examination they were held to appear before the grand jury [illegible] bonds fixed at $100 each. Peterson, after considerable "digging," scraped together the necessary amount and was released, but the object of his affections still languishes behind the chilly bars of the Multnomah county jail. She stoutly denies the charge, and says that it was brought because of jealousy and malice on the part of the complainant.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.—Elmer Anderson, a young man, aged 27 years, and an employe of Alexander Hamilton, the street grader, was found dead in his bed, on the corner of Twenty-sixth and S streets, yesterday morning. Anderson sat [illegible] until 12 o'clock Tuesday night, and before retiring ate a hearty dinner. He slept in the same room with his employer, who during the night was awakened several times by Anderson's restlessness. In the morning, as Mr. Hamilton got up to [illegible] Anderson, he found the latter dead. It is believed that the cause of death was hemorrhage of the brain. The remains were removed to the [illegible], where they will remain several days awaiting instructions from his sister, Mrs. Nora Edwards, who lives in Nebraska.

MR. PORTER WAS CANED.—On August 13, the evening before Mr. O. T. Porter left Albany for Alaska to assume the duties of the office of United States marshal, to which he had been appointed, a number of his friends met at the residence of Mr. Frank Wood, and in the midst of a pleasant social time, Rev. H. P. Webb presented Mr. Porter with a gold-headed cane as a token of their esteem, with a fitting presentation address. During the course of his remarks, Mr. Webb spoke with great feeling of the trust and confidence the citizens of Albany put in the ability and integrity of the honored one whom the president has seen fit to place in the responsible position of United States marshal for the district of Alaska.

DEPARTURE OF CAPTAIN SEBREE.—Captain U. Sebree leaves this evening with his family for Kansas City, over the Short Line. He will be ordered to Baltimore, but will leave his family at Kansas City for a time. The officers of the Manzanita presented Captain Sebree with a very fine binocular marine glass, and the employes in his office presented him with a handsome gold quartz match box, suitably engraved. These useful articles will long serve to remind him of the friendly feelings of those with whom he has been associated for the past four years.

Y. M. C. A. ORCHESTRA.—A Y. M. C. A. orchestra was organized at the rooms of the association Tuesday evening, with the following musicians as "charter" members: J. Billiter, organist; Professor Angermann, cornet; R. J. Fisher, violin, and A. K. Bell, flute. This talent is all that was available to start with, but the intention is to increase the organization in time. The musically enthusiastic contingency of the association are desirous of maintaining a well equipped orchestra, and it is through their efforts to it this initiatory step was taken.

THE LATE FIRE.—Mr. Walker, of the firm of Walker & Dana, has just returned from the coast and he reports that the loss sustained by the firm in the recent fire at their match factory last Wednesday is much less than they were at first led to believe it would be. A large force of men was put to work the next day and the work of rebuilding has progressed so favorably that the factory will be running as usual by Saturday morning next. The origin of the fire remains a mystery, but it was doubtless incendiary.

VISITING EUROPE.—Mr. Charles R. Fay, son of C. L. Fay, of this city, for three years past a student in Amherst college, Massachusetts, went to Europe a few weeks ago. He has spent the intervening time in visiting different points of interest in England and on the continent, and yesterday left England homeward bound. In speaking of the Paris exposition he refers to the American exhibit as being unworthy of our nation.

JOHNSON-CREEK SEWER.—Messrs. Bays & Jeffery have completed 2400 feet of the Johnson-creek sewer. They will get at work on the mouth of the sewer as soon as the stage of water in the river permits. It would seem that the water must be about as low in the river as it is likely to be, but it may get lower in a month.

RETURNED FROM NETARTS.—Mr. William Plimpton and family have just returned from a month's delightful outing on Netarts bay. Fun, fish and fowl (wild), with clam fritters in French style, they had in great abundance. They have had experience in different localities during their vacation time in years past, but they give Netarts the preference for good solid comfort by great odds.

RACES AT RIVERSIDE.—There will be several races at the Riverside track Saturday, September 7, under the auspices of the Multnomah Driving Association. Six horses have already been entered, and interesting matches are expected. The management have also about completed arrangements for a two-mile race between two four oar crews of the P. R. A.

SIXTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.—Noel H. Jacks, traveling secretary of the Y. M. C. A., leaves tomorrow for the sound to make arrangements for the sixth annual convention of the Y. M. C. A.'s of the Pacific Northwest to be given at Vancouver, B. C., September 19 to 23. Large representations from all of the associations are expected.

CASH REGISTER SUITS.—Are growing quite numerous, the sum sued for in each case being $500, damages for using infringement of patents. The cost of the suit will amount to about $500 more, which, at the rate the suits are being commenced, will aggregate a large sum before the end is reached through the courts.

FLOCKS OF WILD GEESE.—Last night the clangor of flocks of wild geese was heard as they passed over the city on the way from their summer trip to the far North. This is one of the signs of approaching winter, but one flock of wild geese does not make winter any more than one swallow makes it summer.

CLOUD CAP INN.—The road from Hood River to Cloud Capp Inn on Mount Hood, is now in splendid condition, the atmosphere is clear and the inn is well supplied with trout and venison. The weather is delightful, and persons wishing to visit Mount Hood will find this the best season of the year for the trip.

TIMBER FIRE.—A large timber fire was yesterday raging southwest of the city, back of Mount Zion. The fire is not very extensive in area, but the wood burns easily, and a large, dense cloud of smoke had gathered over the burning district. The fire is believed to be entirely under control.

ANOTHER CARGO OF DEEP-SEA FISH.—Dr Geo. H. Chance received a dispatch last evening from Captain Chipman, master of the deep-sea fishing steamer Geo. H. Chance, announcing his arrival at Astoria with a cargo of halibut and other deep sea fish. The Chance will arrive at her dock in this city some time this morning.

READY FOR THE BOYS.—All repairs to the free bath-house are finished and the building is again at the disposal of the public. Everything is again in ship-shape, and large crowds of boys already make the welkin ring with their shouts and have great sport in performing all sorts of aquatic gambols.

CALLED TO TAKE CHARGE.—Miss Julia Barrett, a daughter of Dr. F. C. Barrett, of Hood river, a recent graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, was recently called to take charge of the musical department of McMinnville college.

DRESS OVERCOATS.—Six dozen fine overcoats for the early fall, at $14, have been received by J. Selling & Co.; also a line of men's fancy cassimere suits at $15. Twenty dollars would be considered reasonable for either of them.

LOST FOUR DIGITS.—John Versteeg, while running a circular rip saw at Carson's sash factory yesterday, in turning around accidentally drew his hand across the saw, which cut off the four fingers close up to the knuckles.

OVER THE LINES.—General Manager C. J. Smith, of the O. R. & N. Co., will leave to-morrow morning with Mr. Sidney Dillon, for a trip over the company's lines to the Palouse country and then to Huntington.

A HAPPY FATHER.—Mr. George Stowell, of the surveyor general's office, has been well known for many years in Oregon as an accomplish draughtsman. His latest effort is a 13½-pound boy.

ROWING RACE POSTPONED.—The mile race which was to have been rowed by the junior crews of the Portland and Willamette rowing clubs last evening has been postponed.

THE BARK COLOMA.—The Coloma went up through the Morrison street bridge yesterday to Smith's wharf, to load spars for Hong Kong.

BEEN APPOINTED.—Dr. F. Cauthorn has been appointed physician and surgeon for the Northern Pacific Railroad Company here.

THE LATE DR. POHL.

He Was All Right Mentally—No Will Found Yet.

Friends of Dr. Albert Pohl disclaim the idea that there was anything wrong with him mentally. He had defective eyesight, but did not wear glasses, and this caused him to appear strange at times. He was, what those not well acquainted with him might consider, slightly eccentric, and had a mannerism which might cause strangers to suppose he was not all right mentally; but those who knew him well say there was nothing wrong with him. He probably was unable to find his way around the car owing to his defective eyesight, and got out on the platform of the car by mistake and fell off.

When Dr. Pohl was going away he left a box containing his papers at the Commercial National bank. Yesterday Mr. D. P. Thompson filed a petition in the probate court asking that R. L. Durham be appointed special administrator of the doctor's estate with authority to open the box and examine the contents. This was granted, and a portion of the papers examined, without any will or instructions in regard to the disposition of the doctor's property being found. He had made a will some time since, but on the death of a favorite nephew who resided here, said he would have to make another. If this is not found in the box it has probably been deposited with some trust company. Dr. Pohl owned a block in South Portland, some shares in the Commercial National bank and some in the Portland National bank, besides other property.

HOW IT IS APPRECIATED.

As a Result of Cheap Prices for the Best Meats, Zimmerman Has the Largest Trade.

The people never long continue to pay big prices for anything when they can get as good an article, if not better, for less money. It was Mr. L. Zimmerman, the large butcher and packer of this city, who first inaugurated low prices for the best meats during the summer and fall months. Determined to cater only to the trade of the people who wanted first-class meats, Mr Zimmerman went to the expense of putting in large ice refrigerators, and all his meat that is sold is taken right off the ice. This gentleman gives positive instructions to his buyers in the field to purchase nothing but the best and fattest cattle, and all meat sold by him is always in the primest condition. His prices are at least 20 per cent. lower on nearly all meats than any other butcher in the city.

THE GOAL WITHIN REACH.

The River Improvements in Oregon Beginning to Have Effect.

Increased Depth on the Bar and More Water Promised When the Works Are Completed—The Waterway Association.

Arrangements are being made for the fifth annual session of the Columbia Waterway Association which will convene in the Board of Trade rooms in this city, on Thursday, October 10, at 10 A.M.

Secretary Brewster, writing from Vancouver about the forthcoming session, says:

We shall meet this year under more favorable conditions than ever before. The object for which we have labored for five years now seems to be within reach.

The work upon the jetty at the mouth of the Columbia has advanced so far that its completion is assured, and the result will be beyond the most sanguine expectations of the advocates of the jetty system. Already an increased depth of four feet on the bar is apparent, and we are promised thirty-two feet at dead low water when the jetty is completed. The channel from Portland to Astoria has also been permanently deepened.

The work at the Cascades Locks has been pushed faster than ever. The board of engineers sent abroad by the government to investigate various methods of overcoming the obstructions at The Dalles, will present a report at the next meeting of congress, from which we hope a definite plan for this great work will come. The works in progress have been visited this year by several parties of senators and representatives, all of whom expressed great satisfaction with the methods pursued, and their positive belief in the results to follow. Several openly announced their intention of assisting our congressional delegations to get sufficient sums from the next congress to finish the works under way, instead of continuing the present system of piecemeal appropriations.

"By holding a large and enthusiastic convention this year we can greatly aid our friends in congress from this coast to get such amounts as will complete these improvements. The convention will be held during the industrial exposition, and very low rates of fare upon the various railroads will be granted; and every board of trade or town in the Northwest can surely find some one going to Portland who will act as its representative.

"Let no sectional jealousy prevent a full attendance. No matter where your wheat finds its market or where you buy your goods, you are deeply interested in reducing all charges upon the inward and outward flow of commerce at Astoria and Portland for the sake of the effect of that competition upon every other seaport and market upon this coast."

BUSINESS ITEMS.

HOW TO GET ALONG.

This is the way. "Don't sell what you haven't got and don't buy what you haven't got the money to pay for." "I sell more of Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills than of all others combined," says J. W. Ansley, of Buena Vista, Ga. These pills are the result of 30 years' experience and research of a chemist and physician. They always cure torpid liver, dyspepsia and habitual costiveness. All respectable druggists sell them.

JUDGE LAWLER, OF SAN FRANCISCO.

He Has a Vacation and is Visiting Portland, Pleased With Our City.

Judge James Lawler, one of San Francisco's [illegible], and for seven years police judge in that city, is in Portland on a visit. He arrived here last Friday, and since then he has been busying himself looking over the attractions of Oregon's metropolis. Yesterday he visited the police court to observe the methods of criminal jurisprudence here.

"I see that there is some difference in criminal proceedings here as compared with methods in vogue in San Francisco," said the judge to a reporter at the close of the session. "In San Francisco we have three police districts, and consequently three police courts and three police judges. A single court as that [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] and the [illegible] a long term. [illegible] Portland [illegible] have [illegible] every day.

"[illegible] have [illegible] a great deal of time and [illegible]."

Judge Lawler has obtained leave of absence for a short vacation, and is making the best of his time. He is very much pleased with the appearance of Portland, and surprised at her rapid growth and continued prosperity. [illegible] which is noticed by every stranger who [illegible] that you have a great many [illegible] and other [illegible] [illegible] said he, "and it is a wonder to me that the city [illegible]."

Judge Lawler is a man who would attract attention anywhere. His erect and manly bearing, [illegible] and silvery white hair, and the [illegible] expression of his ruddy face, give him an altogether judicial appearance.

GORDON'S GREAT LUCK.

A Louisiana State Lottery Ticket Cashed for $5 Draws $5000.

R. J. Gordon, who keeps a little cigar store on K street, between Third and Fourth, was a considerable winner by the July drawing of the Louisiana state lottery, and in a peculiar way. He explained to a Bee reporter this morning how he came into possession of the winning ticket: "The day the list of the drawing arrived," he said, "William Woodworth came into the store and said, 'I have won an approximation prize of $5, and I want you to cash the ticket.' I said: 'Are you sure your ticket won?' and he replied: 'Yes; the number is [illegible] and [illegible] were the last two figures of the number winning the second capital prize.'

"That satisfied me, and I threw him $5 and put the ticket in my vest pocket. About two hours afterward I was with half a dozen fellows in the store looking over the list, and I pulled out the ticket and said: 'Boys, see if that won anything.' Well, sir, in about a minute one of them yelled out:

"'Why, Gordon, you have won $5000!'

"I wouldn't believe it at first, but when I looked for myself there it was—the ticket called for one-twentieth of the second capital prize of $100,000. Of course the news was all over town in a short time, and the first thing we had an account of how Woodworth wanted a 'divvy,' and how he began legal proceedings. We fixed the matter up amicably, the ticket was sent to New Orleans, and in a few days the money arrived. How did we divide it? Oh, that's of no interest to the public," and Mr. Gordon smiled in a way to indicate that he lost nothing by the transaction. The money must have been most gratefully received, as Mr. Gordon is physically incapacitated for hard labor, and it was doubtless joyfully welcomed by Mr. Woodworth, who is a hardworking carpenter employed on a river steamer.—Sacramento (Cal.) THE EIGHT HOUR SYSTEM.

Against Reducing the Present Duration of a Day's Labor.

PORTLAND, Sept. 4, 1889.

To the Editor of the Oregonian:

Having read in The Oregonian of the 2d an address delivered by Hon. Governor Pennoyer, you will permit me to express my opinion as to the good and evil arising if an eight hour system were generally adopted. It is a well known fact that capital and labor cannot exist without each other, hence any interruption of this harmonious operation would hurt both and thereby retard the progress of industry.

It has been proven time and again that capital can exist without labor much longer than labor can without capital, because it sustains itself. Hence interruption on the part of labor would cripple the laboring community and bring suffering much quicker than it could injure unemployed capital. Capital unemployed does not depreciate, but the laborer or man without employment will suffer as soon as his funds are exhausted. Experience has taught us that the majority of strikes commence [illegible] by agitating laborers [illegible] [illegible] who would [illegible] taken back to the old work at the same or even less wages than before. [illegible] were seldom commenced by the industrious laborer or mechanic, but only agitated by those who rarely work at all, to enable themselves to live by the tribulations of those who are misled.

Labor and capital should always go hand in hand and encourage each other. The governor proposes [illegible] system. It is laying upon [illegible] of [illegible] industry. At no time in the history of this country has industry progressed so rapidly as it has done within the last two years and as it is doing now. Capital is flowing into this country from Europe to be employed, and not only that, but our factories are employed to their utmost capacity. Our rolling mills, factories, machine shops, lumber yards, [illegible] and other similar institutions have contracts [illegible] ahead, and are trying for [illegible] in hurrying work to completion. Can there be a more [illegible] than [illegible] change our system of working ten hours into eight. What would be the result?

The contract that is given at a given figure on the basis of ten hours' work, would be canceled, the house contracted to be built at a cost of $10,000 would cost $12,500, and create a loss to the architect or owners of 25 per cent. He either would break his contract or himself, and most surely the former. All things we look upon would cost 25 per cent more than they do now, by the introduction or change from ten hours to eight hours. Consequently capital would be locked up behind walls and labor would go begging, and laborers would not fare any better than they did in 1873 and 1877.

Let us speak of the moral side of the proposed change. Why does the laborer ask for more leisure time? Does he require it or not? I say, no. Fourteen hours out of twenty-four for rest and

LONDON GRAIN LETTER.

The London correspondent of the Northwestern Miller, writing under date of August 14, says of the wheat situation abroad as follows:

The weather is by no means settled, either in this country or in France, and the harvest is making slow progress. In France it is not yet finished in the north, which is the most important wheat-growing district, and it is now pretty certain from the first threshings in that country that the yield will not come up to previous expectations. Indeed it is probable that the total crop will not exceed 268,000,000 bushels against 265,000,000 bushels last year. If this prove to be so, France will still be under the necessity of importing 24,000,000 bushels of foreign wheat, though a month or six weeks ago it was thought that not a single bushel would be required. In England there can be no doubt that the heavy storms during the past month have done more harm than was thought. So much of the wheat is "laid" and twisted in fact, that it is now doubtful whether an average crop, or say 75,000,000 bushels will be exceeded. Meanwhile old wheat is coming forward more freely than was expected, and though its quality is inferior, it takes the place of foreign, the requirements of which would otherwise be larger. The English harvest can not be said to have made material progress yet (perhaps one-third is cut) so that wet weather now would still be very prejudicial, especially to the quality and condition. Under these circumstances the wheat trade keeps very steady though the demand is by no means active. Our imports lately have been very liberal, the total during the past four weeks having exceeded our requirements by about 1,000,000 bus. This fact with the quantity afloat increasing, owing to large Russian shipments and the prospect of a further increase later when the American shipments assume their expected importance, renders buyers indisposed to operate forward, so that the new red winter for August-September shipment offers in vain at 32s 6d@32s 9d per 480 lbs American terms, while new Californian for prompt shipment is worth 36s per 500 lbs.

The matter upon which the trade here disagrees is the deficiency in the Russian wheat crop, which, as I told you a few weeks ago, the Russian minister of agriculture maintained was nil, he estimating the crop at as much as that of last year, while the commercial advices put the deficit at from 20 to 40 per cent. This being so, the very latest official report from the Russian official journal of finance will be interesting. This is not so rosy as the previous official report, but is still more optimistic than the commercial advices. This report runs as follows, being compiled from the latest reports received at the ministry of agriculture:

"The state of the winter crops leaves much to desire in the provinces of the south, viz: Bessarabia, Kherson, Stavropol, Kharkow, Tchernikow, the Don territory, and Astrakan, as well as in Nijni-Novgorod, Samara and Timbirsk, and in the Novgorod provinces. On the other hand, a good winter wheat crop is expected in the Western, Eastern and Central provinces, and in the Baltic provinces, while in other parts of European Russia the results are more or less satisfactory. Wheat has, generally, suffered more than rye, but in the provinces of Orel, Koursk and Kharkow rye is the better crop. Spring wheat is in a much better condition than winter, and promises good results in the eastern half of European Russia. It is only in the provinces of Voronege, Poltava, Kharkow, Ekaterinoslav, Kovno, Vilna, Grodno, Minsk and St. Petersburg that a bad spring wheat crop is expected."

Among the provinces here enumerated, where the crops are bad, are some of the most important as far as wheat growing is concerned, viz: Samara, Kharkow, Timbirsk and Bessarabia. From this report it appears clear that the crop is certainly short of last year's, but not to the extent supposed. Meanwhile there seems no end to the shipments of old wheat in the south of Russia, and it is clear that stocks of old grain are very large, whatever may be the deficit in the new crop. During the past four weeks over 8,800,000 bushels have been shipped from Russia, of which more than half has been directed to the United Kingdom. Without these liberal shipments the trade would have been quite active. A detailed account of the quantity afloat for the United Kingdom (wheat and flour) which follows, will be found particularly interesting from the proportion coming from Russia compared with previous years:

Afloat. August 13.	1889. Bushels.	1888. Bushels.	1887. Bushels.
Pacific coast	7,010,000	4,680,000	6,475,000

Russia and Roumania	3,310,000	1,075,000	150,000

Sundries	550,000	700,000	450,000
Total	15,655,000	15,370,000	16,830,000
Stocks in U. K.	14,100,000	16,500,000	20,000,000
Visible supply in U. S.	13,570,000	25,227,700	32,770,000
Grand total	43,325,000	57,097,700	69,090,000

The flour trade in London to-day has ruled very quiet. Old American flour (crop 1888) is almost unsalable, except in the case of patents, owing to its inferior quality. Minneapolis straights, for instance, sell as low as 23s, ex-store, while spring patents are not worth more than 27s 6d delivered. To arrive, however, the latter are quoted at 31s 6d c. i. f. against 35s 6d per 280 pounds for No. 1 Hungarian.

The Merchandise Market.

The weather continues fine and trade is good. Sugars are unsteady. On the 25th whites advanced ⅛c, yellows remaining the same. The San Francisco Commercial News makes the following review in a recent issue:

The only change in sugar since last report is an advance in the California refinery prices of ⅛c per pound made on the 28th. The Eastern situation is reported by the New York Shipping List of the 21st as follows: Business continued at a stand until yesterday, when holders of raw apparently tired of inactivity of refiners, offered to sell at prices that proved attractive to buyers and a pretty full business resulted at a decline of ⅛c compared with the last sales. The decline was due to the impatience of holders, as well as to the easier feeling cabled from London, where cane sugar is 6@9d lower than last week, but the readiness with which refiners took hold at the decline, as well as their willingness to take further supplies upon the same basis of value, is a significant feature, and indicates a belief that the market has reached a normal level. The sales made yesterday aggregated about 15,000 tons, chiefly English islands muscovadoes, on the spot on the basis of 5⅜c for 87 test, and accordingly 89 test is fairly quotable at 6 cents. Buyers do not seem to want centrifugals, and only very few lots are available, as they can be carried with greater safety and economy than muscovadoes, but while quotations are nominal the above sales would indicate that they could not be sold at above 6⅛c 96 test. The general situation appears to be slowly improving, notwithstanding the dull and apathetic feeling that still prevails in Europe. The coffee market is steady with a moderate business reported. On Wednesday quite an advance occurred in the New York market, but that had no apparent effect locally. The rice market is very firm under light supplies. There is no island rice in first hands, and jobbers have but a very moderate stock; quotations in consequence are firm. Mixed rice has advanced sharply, and stocks at present do not exceed 3000 mats, well distributed among the trade. The last two steamers did not bring in all over 1500 mats. The cause of light imports is the small stock and high prices in Hong Kong, which influence this market, and quotations now are $4 55@4 60 per two mats. China nut oil is firm at unchanged quotations, which stand at 72½@80c per gallon as to quality. The only alteration in the spice market is a further advance in Singapore pepper, which is quoted at 15@15½c, and is still comparatively cheap, as the New York quotation yesterday was 15c. The decline in salt, recently noted, has been checked and a portion of the price lost is recovered, the cheaper grades of Liverpool now selling at $18, $19 and $20 per ton as to size of sack. On the 23d the Tubbs Cordage Company reduced rates on all descriptions ½c per pound. The canned goods market is without change of importance. Under the date of August 13 the Alaskan says as follows in reference to the salmon pack: From reliable sources it is learned that the pack of the several salmon canneries in Southeastern Alaska up to a week ago had been a small one. Below will be found the actual figures: Loring, 1000 cases; Tongass narrows, 1000 cases; Wrangel, 5000 cases; Chilcat, 1000 cases; Chilcat (Poindexter's), 1000 cases; Pyramid harbor, 750 cases; Freshwater bay, 750 cases; Bartlett bay is not yet ready to commence packing and fish were being refused; Yes bay and Borrough's bay, no figures to hand. The above, as far as given, makes a total of 10,500 cases. The Astorian indulges in the following regarding the value of the Columbia pack of salmon: Last year, from April 1 to August 1, went foreign, direct, 78,754 cases salmon from the Columbia river to England, worth $460,631; and 382,793 eastward and to San Francisco, worth $2,241,281; total, 461,366 cases, worth $2,707,912. This year there went in the corresponding period 107,240 cases foreign, worth $732,805, and 270,535 cases domestic, worth $1,903,593, a total of 377,775 cases, worth $2,636,398. The total exports of salmon from the Columbia river for the past eight seasons were as follows: 1881-82, 501,325; value, $2,538,941; 1882-83, 548,382 cases, worth $3,401,172; 1883-84, 558,144 cases, worth $2,662,118; 1884-85, 660,138 cases, worth $2,757,756; 1885-86, 577,497 cases, worth $2,251,402; 1886-87, 551,819 cases, worth $2,742,297; 1887-88, 461,336 cases, worth $2,707,012; 1888-89, 377,775 cases, worth $2,636,398; a total in eight years of 4,306,856 cases salmon, worth $21,967,986; nearly $22,000,000 worth of salmon shipped from Astoria in eight years. This represents canned salmon alone and is illustrative of one great source of wealth from the Columbia river. Without any preparatory sowing, in eight years has been reaped this rich harvest from the little strip of water at our doors. Where is the similar area on land or sea that has equaled it in fertility?

The receipts of Alaska salmon for the season to date have been as follows:

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Stocks to-day were less active than yesterday, and at the same time more irregular and feverish, with some marked changes in the speculative favorites, and the general list was traded in within narrow limits. Northern Pacific preferred opened close to the best price for a week past. The selling in that stock, however, was marked, and the pressure was so great that a drop of 1½ per cent. was scored in the first few minutes. Common also displayed pronounced strength, and scored a rise of 1¾. Later in the day both gave way under heavy pressure against them, and the lowest prices of the day were made in them at the close, the loss in preferred during the last hour being nearly 3 per cent. The movements in the general list up to 1 o'clock were generally in an upward direction, and later on the coal stocks became a leading and strong feature. The close, under the influence of free selling of Northern Pacific, was heavy to weak. Final changes of note among the active stocks were an advance of 2¼ in Delaware & Hudson, and 1 per cent. in Colorado coal, and a decline of 2⅝ in Northern Pacific preferred.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

THE CITY FATHERS' CONFAB.

A Long Session and a Big Grist of Proceedings.

J. J. Byrne Appointed—More Help Desired—Surveyor Paget's Letter—Sewer Material—New Street Railway—Routine Business.

As has become the usual custom it was some time after the hour set for beginning business, before the members of the common council could be got into the council chamber, and even then they had not finished their preliminary talking. All except Councilman Hoyt answered to the roll call, and, after a time got to work. It was the witching hour when graveyards yawn, when they trooped forth, all of them tired and some of them disgusted.

HARBOR POLICEMAN APPOINTED

The Board of Trade sent in a communication asking that Robert E. Graham be appointed an officer in accordance with an act of the last legislature for the prevention of and punishment for enticing seamen to desert.

JOHN J. BYRNE SELECTED

Mayor DeLashmutt recited the provisions of the act which makes it the duty of the mayors and common councils of Portland and Astoria to appoint such an officer, and stated that it was necessary that he should have the qualification of an elector. Mr. Graham being a foreigner and having declared his intention of becoming a citizen less than one year ago, was not qualified to hold the office. The mayor and common council of Astoria, having neglected to take any action in the premises, the commerce of this port demands that some action be taken.

When the ordinance appointing this officer came up Mr. Woodward moved to insert the name of J. J. Byrne. Gerdes proposed Hugh Brady and Costendeick, Hugh Dennison. Mr. Byrne was finally appointed and his salary fixed at $100 per month.

RAILWAY COMPANY ORDINANCE

An ordinance authorizing the Metropolitan Railway Company to construct and operate a street railway on certain streets was introduced. This was intended to provide for a change of route for their line, allowing them to come down Corbett street to G, up that street to Front, and from Front up Grant to Second so as to utilize the franchise they purchased on Second street from the Traction Railway Company. The ordinance was read twice and referred to the committee on streets.

MR. PAGET HEARD FROM

In reply to the resolution of Mr. Gerdes adopted at the last meeting requiring City Surveyor Paget to furnish the details of all private work done by him since the 1st of January, 1889, Mr. Paget submitted the following communication:

I have kept no such detailed account of private work done and consequently I am unable to make such a complete statement as is implied by the terms of the resolution. The charter is silent upon the subject, and the common council has never prescribed any rule governing private work or in any way regulating it. Moreover I have stood upon the ground of our predecessors, and upon what seemed to be established custom among nearly all city officers in this jurisdiction and have performed such private work as comes to the office unsolicited.

In every case the men employed upon this work are paid for their time by myself alone, and not by the city.

Such rules and regulations as your honorable body may see fit to establish concerning this subject will be faithfully observed. E. W. PAGET,
City Surveyor.

Received and filed.

MORE HELP ASKED FOR.

City Surveyor Pagett also presented a communication, asking for more help in his department and setting forth that certain amendments made to the charter by the last legislature have given an immense impetus to street improvements, as is shown by the fact that during the five months preceding these amendments 133 permits for laying sidewalks were issued, and that during the three months since 155 permits have been issued. There has been a corresponding increase in all kinds of street work, and there is a formidable array of petitions for further street improvements in all parts of the city awaiting action.

On this showing an ordinance was introduced and passed, authorizing him to employ a surveyor, rodman and axeman.

STILL ANOTHER STEEL RAILWAY

An ordinance was introduced granting the Willamette Heights Railway Company the right to lay down and operate for thirty years a street railway commencing at Stark and Front streets, up Stark to Sixth to I to North Eleventh to M to North Twenty third to O to North Twenty fifth to T and on T to the city limits. The cars are to be drawn by horses or operated by cables or electricity.

The cars shall run between 6 A. M. and 8 P. M. every seven minutes as far west as Twenty third street, and between 8 and 11 P. M. every twenty minutes, and west of Twenty third street every fifteen minutes during the day and every thirty minutes up to 11 o'clock. The work is to be completed within one year from the approval of the ordinance. The ordinance was read twice and referred to the street committee.

THE MATERIAL EXAMINED

Councilman Farrell presented a communication stating that he had examined the brick being used by the P. M. & P. Co. in constructing the sewer in Fourteenth street, and found that they were of very poor quality. Mr. Webster, who has charge of the work, agreed that the brick were poor, that probably 25 to 50 per cent of them were bad. There was also a lot of brick which had been used in other work years ago. He informed Mr. Webster that he would have to take out fifteen to twenty feet of the sewer and that he should put no more poor brick in the sewer.

His attention was also called to the rock being used on North N street, which he found was the poorest kind of rock, and he informed Mr. Webster that he would have to haul the rock off and not use it.

He expressed the opinion that it was an injustice to the property owners for the street superintendent to allow such poor materials to accumulate in such quantities.

MORE POOR BRICK.

Councilman Farrell presented a communication in regard to poor brick being used by the contractor for the sewer in Fourteenth street and the poor rock in the improvement of North N street, which created considerable discussion. Later he introduced a resolution requiring fifteen feet of the sewer to be taken up and an overseer appointed to watch the construction of this sewer, which, after some discussion, was passed.

"ADDITIONS" IN MULTNOMAH COUNTY

Over 200 Now Laid Out and Platted—The Necessity of Perfect Abstracts of Titles

The good old days when the consideration in bartering and "swapping" land was anything from a jackknife to a yoke of steers have passed away forever. At the present time a transfer of real estate in Multnomah county is attended with all the safeguards that are usually thrown around the most weighty transactions of life, the purchaser satisfying himself in all cases regarding the validity of the title. There is no single agency connected with real estate transfers of so much importance to the purchaser as a perfect abstract of title. There are already laid out in this county upwards of 200 additions. The grand total of lots in these several additions as shown by the records in the county clerk's office reaches nearly 40 000. So complex a study has the searching of titles to property become here that the leading reputable attorneys decline to search the records to establish the title to any piece of property. The work of searching titles is a profession in itself and is now done by the abstract company. The most complete set of abstract books in Multnomah county to-day is that of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company, with offices in the Abington building. Their books contain the entire records of the county, classified, posted and indexed to show a complete history of every foot of land from the time it was patented. Accompanying these descriptions is a complete set of maps platted from the deeds on record and from accurate work in the field by their own surveyors. Upwards of $85 000 have been expended and twenty to thirty attorneys and clerks have been constantly employed for two years past in the prosecution of the work. Mr. J. Thorburn Ross, under whose direct supervision the work has all been done, reports that the set is now so complete that he can tell at a moment's notice the absolute title to any lot, block or tract in the county. This will be welcome news to purchasers of real estate here. A guarantee of the Real Estate Title and Trust Company practically establishes the title to any property in Multnomah county.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Wyatt opera company gave another good performance of "Patience" last night. The house was larger than previously. The company has surprised the public most agreeably. It is quite a relief after the last week's performance, and if Mr. Howe will give the people such companies instead of the second rate parties, such as "Hot Water" and "One of the Bravest," which M. B. Leavitt, of the Bush street theater, San Francisco, inflicts upon Portland, he may depend upon the support of the theater-going public, who do not wish to be bored by Mr. Leavitt's second rate attractions. Mr. Howe or Mr. Bell, his associate manager, should try to present attractions with less of the variety stamp. Good operatic or dramatic companies always receive liberal patronage in Portland.

To-night "Virginia," a new opera for Portland, will be presented, with the entire company in the cast.

AT THE MUSEE.

"The White Slave" drew good audiences at the two performances yesterday—at matinee and in the evening. The same bill will be presented during the week.

A HOT FIGHT AND A FIRE.

A Possibility That Arson Was the Sequel of a Row About a Woman.

The Blaze Started in the Room Where the Quarrel Began—One of the Men Tells What He Knows of the Matter.

A brisk west wind was blowing when an alarm was turned in from station 6 at 3 P. M. yesterday for a fire in the dwelling at No. 5 Columbia street and for a time it was feared that the block of frame dwellings would be swept, but the fire department went at the blaze hammer and tongs and the danger was soon averted.

The house was a story frame structure and was leased of Mayor DeLashmutt by Theodore Weyer, a saloonkeeper, who rented 1½ rooms the eastern half to Joseph Ziegler and family and the western part to two men, one of whom had a wife and child. Weyer does not know the names of his tenants.

It was in the western end that the fire started, communicating with a large two-story frame building which stands on the northeast corner of Front and Columbia streets. Theodore Weyer occupied the corner as a saloon and the Portland Carriage Manufacturing Company, the stock of which is owned by Mayor DeLashmutt, the rest of the building.

The total loss by the fire was $8600, of which $1 00 was on buildings which are owned by Mayor DeLashmutt and Hon. Richard Williams. The dwelling is a total wreck and the southern portion of the big building was considerably damaged. The carriage company's loss is $6000, Weyer's $600, and Ziegler's $100.

There was no insurance on the buildings or on the carriage company's property. Weyer carried a $300 policy and Ziegler one for $100. The Ziegler family saved nothing but a purse of money. Mr. Ziegler was resting on a lounge and barely escaped. Weyer saved but little. The carriage company managed to get nearly all of its finished stock into the street.

A FIGHT PRECEDED THE FIRE

There is much mystery as to the cause of the fire. It is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The Zieglers know nothing of the cause of it. Between 10 and 11 in the morning there was a bloody row among the occupants of the western end of the dwelling and a stranger, a young man. It is said to have been about a woman, the wife of one of the occupants of the west end. It began in the house and was finished on the sidewalk. Four men were engaged in it. After the row all hands disappeared and none were about when the fire broke out. While the fire was in progress Ziegler charged that one of the men had fired the place for revenge and declared that if he could find them he would make it hot for them.

About 11 o'clock a stout man of medium height, having a mustache, was seen to crawl under a porch in the rear of O. J. Hilton's house at 288 Front street, which is just behind the burned dwelling. His face was bleeding as if some one had scratched or cut him. A lady living in Hilton's house asked the fellow what he wanted.

"I want a bed," he said. "I have had a fight and am bleeding and I want to sleep for two or three hours. I will pay you well for it."

Mrs. Hilton being called told the man that she was not renting beds and advised him to go away. Just then a rather tall, thin young woman carrying a child in her arms came out of the Ziegler dwelling and began talking to the man.

"Do you know that man?" asked Mrs. Hilton.

"Yes I do," replied the woman contemptuously curling her lip.

The pair then walked out of the yard and started down the street. At Jefferson the man took the child and entered a saloon on the corner while the woman turned into the entrance of the American Exchange lodging house and walked upstairs. She returned shortly afterward, and with the man went back into the lodging house.

There is no clue to the identity of the man and woman. After the fire an OREGONIAN reporter called at the lodging house and inquired about them. It was learned of Mrs. Jackson, the keeper, that the woman came about 11 o'clock and engaged a room. She paid Mrs. Jackson's son 25 cents, and was assigned to room 39 on the top floor.

The woman told me that she wanted the room for a man," said young Jackson. She said he had been fighting and was bleeding.

Room 39 being visited was found to have been occupied within a short time. Several blood stained towels were found, and there was a basin of bloody water on the stand. There was no sign of the man or woman. They had not returned when the reporter called the second time last evening.

A PARTICIPANT'S STORY

After the fire a well built, light complexioned, tipsy young man, whose head was tied up in a bandage, was pointed out to the reporter as one of the men engaged in the row in the morning. Being questioned he admitted this and gave his name as A. B. Kent, and said he lived on North Sixth street between G and H.

"I was in Weyer's saloon this morning when I met a woman," said Kent. "She invited me to go into the house next door and I accompanied her. I sent out for some beer and we were drinking it when all of a sudden she began raising a racket. Two men came to the door and kicked it in. They pitched into me, and so did the woman and there was a big row. After we had fought in the house for awhile we went out on the sidewalk and another man jumped me, making four that I had to fight. They clubbed me with chairs and canes so that I had to get my head stitched but I think I gave one of them more than I got. I whipped out a pocket knife, but lost it in the fight."

Kent said he did not know either of the men or the woman. The man whom he referred to as receiving as much punishment as he got was doubtless the one who crawled under Mr. Hilton's porch and for whom the room was engaged at the American Exchange. Kent boasted that if he should find his enemies again he would fix them. Surveying the smouldering ruins he said, sneeringly, as he bit the end off a cigar:

"When in h—l did all this occur? I see the ——— got burned out since I was here. It's a d—d good thing. In fact it is lucky all around."

ONE MORE OPPORTUNITY

Will be given to all interested in judging of the merits of the J. F. Long Hand Pump Fire Extinguisher to-day on Fifth street opposite the Post office building at noon. A room and also a chimney will be fired and extinguished in short order. Come and see it.
